NEW YORK CITY.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—Marshal Barlow positively denies that any expedition left this port, either Wednesday or Thursday night, and is of the opinion no other expedition has left here except that by the Peril. He has no doubt that cargoes of munitions of war have been taken to Cuba, but as there was no legal proof of their real destination, he could not interfered. Per contra. About three hundred Cuban filibusters, who were quartered in Cooper's Hall, Jersey City, last evening were supplied with rations, came over to New York in small squads and have since disappeared. There were forty or fifty men about the New York headquarters, on Nassau street, to-day. Colonels Currier and Michaelwiski and Captain Claney, who were arrested last night, have been released on bail to answer indictments found against them. Search is continued for Col. Ryan, but no clue to his whereabouts has been discovered.

The inhuman officers of the James Foster were sentenced to-day, Glynn, the carpenter, to fifteen years, Cruthers, the boatswain, to seven years, and Murphy, third mate, to five years in the penitentiary.

About twenty cigar dealers have been arrested on the charge of not affixing stamps to each box of cigars, Commissioner Osborn having decided that is the law.

The stock of E. C. Taffield, wholesale dealer in distilled spirits, and place of business of two other dealers, have been seized, and the former removed to a bonded warehouse, pending forfeiture. About six thousand gallons of spirits are involved.

Polish residents have made arrangements for a triennial celebration of the peaceful union of ancient Lithunia, Podalia and Galicia with the Kingdom of Poland in 1859.

CHICAGO.

Return of the Pullman Excursion—New California Barley—Silver From Colorado—Editor Assaulted—Murder Case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Pullman California excursion party reached this city this morning, after an absence of twenty days. All are well and delighted with their trip.

New Barley, from California, was shown on 'change to-day.

Three tons of silver, from Georgetown, Colorado, mines, arrived in this city yesterday, consigned to various parties.

Perry H. Smith's excursion party arrived at Wasatch, Utah, to-day at noon. All well. To-morrow the party goes to Salt Lake City.

A. M. Smith, one of the editors of the Chicago Republican was knocked down and otherwise maltreated in the street to-day by H. O. Stone. The cause was an article accusing Mr. Stone of various Disreputable acts in connection with some real estate transactions. Mr. Smith is one of our most respected citizens.

The testimony in the Naperville murder case was closed to-day at eleven o'clock. The remainder of the day was exhausted by the pleas of Messrs. Vallette and Barry on the part of the prosecution, and Mr. Murray for the defense. The case will probably be given to the jury on Monday. The conviction is well settled that Bailey will be acquitted.

CUBA

The Situation of the Rebellion—Forces in the Field—Wholesale Butchery of Two Thousand Men, Women and Children—Jordan and His Filibusters—Twenty-five of the Grapeshot Expedition Executed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—Havana letters of the 19th say, that on the 16th several anxious dispatches came to Espinar from Generals in the field. They wanted men and represented their forces in danger. The Spaniards at Puerto Principe and on the road to Nuevitas suffered heavily from rebel attacks.

A correspondent sends the following statement of the forces in field: The Government has 13,000 veterans and 2,700 volunteers, added to 16,800 volunteers garrisoning the principal cities, of which 9,200 are in Havana. The forces of the Patriots are 36,000 whites and 19,000 negroes, of which about 20,000 are well armed. This force would undoubtedly increase to some 80,000 whites and negroes in a short time, should they continue to receive arms and ammunition from the states.

Letona assaulted a camp consisting of the families who had abandoned Puerto. The assault was made in the night, and two thousand persons, old and young, men, women and children, butchered.

General Marmal, under date of the 22d, makes a report of certain operations, among them arrival of the Nipe expedition under Jordan, with three hundred men, mostly Cubans, and even a greater amount of arms and munitions than had been reported.

There appears little doubt that the larger portion of the fillibusters who landed from the schooner Grapeshot were killed or captured. Twenty-five of them were executed by the Spaniards.

The yellow fever is increasing at Havana, both ashore and on ship board.

Gen. Buceta has arrived in Havana. He was hooted at Santiago, and on his arrival at Cienfuegos was only saved from the volunteers by the intercession of the Governor. He is now concealed in this city and will be compelled to escape by stealth.

The mobilized volunteers garrisoning Mantanzas recently put to death a boy named Robinson, nineteen years of age, son of a British resident. He was charged with carrying correspondence for insurgents.

Heavy skirmishes have taken place in Cinco Villas district. It is reported that one hundred and fifty Cubans and one hundred Spaniards have been killed in these conflicts.

It is known that large sums of money are sent to the United States for the purchase of war materials and to aid the Cuban Juntas in fitting out expeditions.

General Buceta, falsely reported to have been killed by his troops, has gone to New Orleans.

The cholera has broken out in Guantinamo and vicinity. There were several cases in Santiago, and the disease was reported to be raging with great severity in the interior.

About the last of May schooner Grapeshot landed about forty men and a portion of her cargo on the Cuban coast. While the boats were landing the men, some of the passengers on board attempted to run the vessel ashore and a fight took place with the crew and officers, in which the Captain of the Grapeshot received a bullet in his leg. The Grapeshot finally got rid of the whole party and without landing all of her cargo of stores proceeded to Turko Island where she received clearance and arrived on the fourth inst. at Falmouth, Jamaica. There one hundred and fifty-five packages of arms and ammunition, remaining on board, were seized by the custom officers and the Captain abandoned the vessel. The seizure was subsequently declared illegal and the Captain has sued the collector of the port and others for damages.

Several fillibusters of the party which landed at Battiguay were executed at Santiago.

The volunteer forces have, of their own free will, given up the duty of garrisoning Moro Castle and Fortress Cabanos, and will be relieved to-morrow by the naval force. They have taken this action to convince the home government that they had no idea of disobeying orders or of opposing the new Captain General De Rodas.

Sugar market active at 8¼@8¾ for No. 12 D. S. There is a better feeling in the market, and a large speculative inquiry.

The reports of the extraordinary mortality of cholera and dysentery in the ranks of the contending armies is fully confirmed. Nothing is known about military movements.

General Caballero De Rodas is expected to arrive here next Sunday.

HAVANA, June 22, via KEY WEST, June 25.—General Puella has been relieved of his command and has arrived here. He represents that five thousand reinforcements are needed in the Cinca Villas District.

Another expedition of filibusters has landed on the southern coast.

The schooner Lahave has been released as a British vessel, and was towed to Jamaica by her captor. Her Captain claims one hundred pounds damages for each day of her detention.

Commodore Phillimore has gone to Mantanzas to investigate the assassination of the English boy. The English Consul there regards the outrage as evidence of the inability of the authorities to protect foreigners. Active steps are being taken to defend Matanzas and Cardoso by Spanish cruisers.

Advices of the 16th, from Nuevitas, report another engagement between Puerto de Padre and Los Tunis. The Spaniards, eight hundred strong, under General Ferrer, were defeated, lost their convoy and retreated to Tunis. Gen. Ferrer sent for reinforcements and they had been forwarded.

The New Secretary of the Navy.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TRENTON, June 25.—Hon. Geo. M. Robeson, the newly appointed Secretary of the Navy, is a son of Judge Wm. P. Robeson, of Warren county, N. J., formerly a prominent leading Whig. Upon the election of Mr. Frelinghuysen, as Senator, in 1867, Mr. Robeson was appointed by Governor Ward as Attorney General, which position he resigns for his new duties. He is about forty-one years of age, and justly holds high rank in his profession. He is a strong and decided Republican.

—J. A. Galvin and R. Moody, the latter colored, were sentenced yesterday by the Supreme Court, at Brownsville, Ky., to be hung on the 20th of August for the murder of officer Fenton and Capt. Perry, of the Police Court, about a year ago.

WASHINGTON, June 25, 1869.

INDIAN MATTERS.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs received a letter dated May 31, from General W. Dent, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Arizona Territory, in which he gives the same statement of the conduct of the Indians.

News of depredations come from all parts. They have made attacks on herds and wagon trains in the immediate vicinity of Camp Verde, wounding and killing several men and driving off the stock. The same scenes have been enacted near Camp Lovell. The river Indians of the Gila and Colorado are quiet, being now engaged in planting. The trouble, he says, is owing to the temporary removal of troops from posts in the Territory.

IMPORTANT FROM CUBA.

Important intelligence has been received from the headquarters of the Cuban revolutionists by their friends in this city. Since the battle of Puerto del Padre there have been but two important engagements, in both of which the Spanish forces were defeated with a loss of fifty in killed and wounded. In one the Cubans captured a provision train. The Cuban army is reported in good condition, while that of their opponents is suffering greatly from cholera and congestive fevers. Disease and discontent are proving more destructive to the Spaniards than unsuccessful operations in the field could have been. The commanders find it difficult to maintain any organization. The feud between the regulars and volunteers is growing more intense every day and all hopes of a settlement seem to be at an end. The volunteers have complete control of the commanders and indiscribable outrages are being perpetrated at their instigation.

GETTYSBURG MONUMENT.

The Committee having charge of the Monumental Dedication at Gettysburg on the first of July, have made arrangements with the principal railroads leading to New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, and other points, for the issue of excursion tickets at reduced prices.

RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY BORIE.

Adolph E. Borie to-day resigned his position as Secretary of the Navy, and George M. Robeson, of New Jersey, formerly Attorney General of that State, has been appointed to succeed him. Mr. Robeson was sworn in at noon to-day, and will attend the regular Cabinet meeting. Mr. Borie felt compelled to resign by reason of the multiplicity of his private duties.

Mr. Robeson was sworn in by Chief Justice Carter and attended the Cabinet meeting to-day.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Mr. Turner, colored Postmaster at Macon, has received his commission and left for that city.

The number of assistant assessors of internal revenue has been reduced nine hundred and sixty-three since November. There are now 2,217 in the service.

Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $801,000.

Several additional clerks were dismissed from the Treasury Department.

Hon. H. R. Hubbard, Comptroller of Currency, will leave Washington this afternoon on a trip to the North and West and be absent three weeks.

Trial for Embezzlement.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 25.—Stephen B. Hayman, who as manager of the American Express Company lost $20,000 between Glendale and Lockland in March, 1868, and who claimed to have been robbed by two men, was on trial to-day before Judge Cox and a jury in the Common Pleas Court; for embezzlement of the money. The State closed her testimony and the defense moved to arrest the case from the jury, on the ground that no legal proof of the prisoner's guilt had been offered. Judge Cox granted the motion and directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. They asked leave to insert in the verdict that it was given under instruction of the Court, which was granted, and the defendant was then declared not guilty. Two other indictments against Hayman were then nullified, and he was discharged.

News from Hayti.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, June 25.—Advices from Port au Prince report that on the 12th of June President Solnave, after bombarding Aux Cajas forty-eight hours, landed eight hundred men and assaulted the fortifications. He carried the forts but the insurgents rallied and recaptured their works. The rebel Gen. Wissel Saget is dangerously ill.

Rumors are again revived of the cession of the Bay of Samana to the United States.

News has been received from the capital of St. Domingo to the 13th. It is reported that General Luperon had arrived before Puerto Plata, on board the Telegrafe, and demanded the immediate and unconditional surrender of the place. President Baez was making vigorous efforts to suppress outbreaks.

Washington Monument in Philadelphia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Workmen are engaged on the pavement fronting Independence Hall, preparing the foundation for the monument to Washington, which will be erected on the fifth of July. The base will be surmounted by a handsome statue of Washington, presented to the city by the children attached to the Public Schools, who alone contributed to the expense of the monument.

Fire at Philadelphia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—A fire occurred this afternoon at the corner of Sixth and Columbia streets, which destroyed McDaniel's glue factory, Cannoon's wool pulling establishment, and some ten or fifteen frame and brick buildings, taverns, &c. Loss very heavy, and will amount to at least $200,000.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Several additional Cuban leaders were arrested in New York Thursday night.

—Seventy-five thousand cigars were seized on Thursday, at New York, on the bark Iowa, from Havana.

—The first grain elevator on the Pacific coast was put in operation at San Francisco on the 23d.

—There was an eruption of the volcano Colima on the 12th of June, the first since 1800. The whole mountain was covered with fire.

—A railroad meeting at Kirksville, Mo., adopted the most practicable route for a new railroad from Quincy, Ills., through Edina and Kirksville, Missouri, thence to a point on the Missouri river opposite Brownsville, Neb. A Board of Directors was chosen, and C. A. Savage, of Quincy, elected President.

—Recent dates from Cuban sources state that considerable numbers of regular Spanish soldiers have deserted to the patriot army. There is also a great deal of sickness among them. The Republican forces have received as much or more aid from Mexico and other points in the way of munitions, arms, &c., than has yet been obtained from the United States.

—At Williams College, Mass., on Friday, twenty-four graduated out of a class of thirty, and four additional graduates in partial course. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on Judge Benedict, of New York; President Elliott, of Harvard University; General John E. Wool, and Henry L. Dawes, of Pittsfield, and of Doctor of Divinity on Rev. John W. Bailey, of Carlinville, Illinois, and Rev. L. E. Smith, of New York.

—The dispatches from Minister McMahon cover from early in January, when he arrived in Lopez's lines, down to the twenty-first of April, and shed much light upon affairs in that quarter. Lopez still maintains a warlike attitude, and expresses a determination to the uttermost. Several inclosures from Lopez to McMahon are transmitted. McMahon makes no allusion to his recall, from which it is inferred the letter has not reached him. It is supposed the flag of truce which brought these dispatches through the lines to the allies, took back the dispatches awaiting transmission to him. There is no longer any doubt that the allies have been the cause of the cessation of communication.

Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—There will be a big change in the price of spool cotton next week. Already the Williamantic Company have put up the price of their glace thread from 45c to 52½c, and Green and Daniel's and Stafford boss threads have been raised to 45c.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Adjourned Railroad Meeting.

The stock and bondholders of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company met pursuant to adjournment at the general office of the Company, at the corner of Penn and Wayne streets yesterday, at ten o'clock A. M., to hear the result of the vote on the lease to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The vote was as follows:

On the first resolution 179,701 for, and 7,217 against.

Second resolution 186,918 for, and none against.

Third resolution 162,636 for, and 24,282 against.

In the meeting of the first and second bondholders, the vote stood about in the same proportion.

At the meeting of the Directors of the road, the usual quarterly dividend of two and a half per cent. was declared, anticipatory of the 16th of July.

Under the terms of the lease the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will take possession of the road and property on the first proximo. Gen. Cass will still retain the position of President of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company, but as he will be relieved from all responsibility of the management of the affairs of the road the position is merely a nominal one.

The General still retains the management of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, which is being pushed forward with considerable energy from Fort Wayne northward to the upper Lake country. Of this road there has been built, within the last three months, twenty miles toward Grand Rapids, and placed twenty miles more under graduation, to be completed within the next three months. This whole route, towards Grand Rapids, will be completed this year, and will form another great link of transportation and traffic with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway at Fort Wayne.

Sabbath School Concert.

A grand concert was given Thursday evening by the "Sixth Avenue Juvenile Choir," of the Second U. P. Church (Rev. Hanna's), in Henry's Hall, Manchester, for the benefit of the Nixon street Baptist Sabbath School. The audience on the occasion was large and highly appreciative, and the exercises gave unbounded satisfaction.

Although recently organized, this is one of the most efficient choirs in the city, and number twenty-six members. Too much praise cannot be awarded to their efficient and talented leader, Prof. Sherratt, to whose assiduous and unwearied efforts they have attained to such proficiency. So much were the audience and all parties concerned pleased, that Prof. Sherratt has received a most urgent request to repeat the permance at some early day.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Much has been written and printed in the city papers about the different localities for a City Public Park, but very few of those writing have spoken of the merits of the "Point." I have lived in this city about twenty years, and from my first inspection of that locality to this day I have always considered it the very best place for a public park for the masses. A few acres could there be obtained at a reasonable expense, I am told, a wall built around the outer side to protect it from washing away, plant it with trees, have a row of seats on the water side, also throughout the whole grounds, and, my word for it, it would be the institution of Pittsburgh. Nothing like it can be conceived of, all things considered. FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Child Run Over by a Wagon and Killed Instantly—Coroner's Inquest—The Testimony—Verdict.

An accident of an extremely distressing nature occurred on Carson street, East Birmingham, yesterday, resulting in the death of Valentine Koegler, aged eight years, son of Wendel Koegler, residing in East Birmingham. It appears that Mr. William Ward, livery stable keeper on Fifth avenue, had been engaged by Mr. Williams, Manager of the Pittsburgh Theatre, to take the Great Western Band through the city as an advertisement for his establishment. At about four o'clock on Friday evening, Mr. Ward started with six horses attached to his band wagon, to the south side of the river, and while passing along Carson street, through the borough of East Birmingham, the horses going at a walk, and the band playing, some person was distributing theatre bills from either side of the wagon. The music and the distribution of the bills combined, had the effect of collecting a large crowd of children together, who were following the wagon and picking up the bills as fast as they were thrown out. When near the Diamond in the borough named, Valentine Koegler, the deceased, who was among the crowd of boys following the wagon, ran to pick up a bill which had fallen within a few feet of the track upon which the wagon was running, and just as he stooped to pick it up another boy, somewhat larger and older than him, who, it appears, was after the same bill, ran against him, causing him to fall head foremost on the track between the front and hind wheel, and before the wagon could be stopped the hind wheel ran upon his neck, and, it appears, dragged him from fifteen to eighteen inches and then passed over him, killing him almost instantly. The driver, Mr. Ward, was sitting on the opposite side of the wagon and knew nothing of the occurrence until he was called upon to stop the horses, which he did, it is said, almost instantly, but not in time to save the boy's life.

Mr. Wendal Koegler, the father of the child, was standing on the side of the street, a short distance from where the accident occurred, and was the first man to get to the child after the wagon had passed over him, but did not know that it was his own son until after he had picked him up.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The body was at once removed to the residence of the father, and notice sent to the Coroner, which was responded to by Alderman W. B. Neeper, the Coroner being absent. A jury was summoned, and after being sworn viewed the body and retired to Justice Ammon's office, where the inquest was held, when the following tesimony was taken.

TESTIMONY.

W. G. Gallaher, sworn—Friday evening, June 25th, between four and five o'clock, Wm. Ward was driving a band wagon along Carson street, through East Birmingham, with six horses attached to the wagon, which contained a band of music. I was sitting on the left side of the driver's seat. Some one in the wagon was distributing bills on the street, and there was a crowd of children, perhaps two or three hundred, on the street. They were grabbing for the bills. I was telling the children to keep away from the wagon. The deceased came within two feet of the wagon for a bill, when another boy ran against him, and he then fell under the wheel. He was dragged for half a yard. I can't say whether the wheel passed over him or not. It was the left hind wheel that struck him. He was driving carefully at a slow walk, and the band was playing at the time. I called to him to stop, and he checked the horses almost instantly.

Phillip Kalkhof, sworn—I belong to the Great Western band; was in the wagon Friday evening when the boy was killed. Was sitting on the left hand side of the middle seat. Someone in the wagon was distributing bills and the boys on the street were running after them. The deceased ran after a bill, and another boy was after the same bill and ran against deceased, throwing him cetween the front and hind wheels. The hind wheel passed over him. I saw a man pick the boy up and carry him away. The wagon was going very slow, the horses were walking and the band was playing at the time. The driver stopped as soon as called upon to do so.

Xavier Meldar, sworn.—I saw the accident; it occurred about five o'clock; I was with the father of the child when the band wagon passed; some one in the wagon was throwing bills out, and the boys were running after them; I did not see any more of it until I saw the boy laying on the street; the wagon was going slow, the horses were walking, and the band was playing.

THE VERDICT.

The jury after a short deliberation, found the following verdict:

We find that the deceased, Valentine Koegler, came to his death on Carson street, in the borough of East Birmingham, in the county of Allegheny, between the hours of four and five o'clock, on Friday, the 25th day of June, 1869, by being accidentally run over by a band wagon driven by William Ward, and while the jury fully exonerate the driver, William Ward, from blame or censure in the matter, they protest against the practice of distributing bills from the sides of wagons while the same are in motion.

INFORMATION FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Shortly after the accident occurred, the father of the deceased appeared before Justice Ammon, and made information charging William Ward, driver of the wagon, with manslaughter. A warrant was issued, upon which Mr. Ward was arrested and taken before the Justice for a hearing, when the following witnesses were examined:

Wendal Koegler sworn—Am the father of Valentine Koegler, the deceased; was standing on the corner of John and Carson streets, East Birmingham, when the wagon passed. There were two horses following in rear of the wagon; the horses stopped suddenly and I saw a child lying on the street; picked it up and saw that it was my own. Carried him home. He did not move after I picked him up. The doctor took the child from me and carried it into the house. Did not see it run over. The child was lying behind the hind wheel when I picked it up. I took notice of the wagon; it was going slow, and there was a big crowd of children following it, and reaching for bills. Did not see the child hurt but picked it up afterwards; it is dead now.

Wm. Green, Sr., sworn—I keep a tavern near John street; was in the house when the wagon passed and came out; saw children running after the wagon picking up the bills as they were thrown out. The wagon was going slow.

The Justice held the accused to bail for his appearance at Court.

It is probable that the information will be withdrawn, as the prosecutor, after having time to consider the matter, says that he is convinced that it was an accident and not the result of carelessnes on the part of the driver.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judges Stowe and Sterrett.

FRIDAY, June 25.—In the case of the Commonwealth vs. T. S. Miller, indicted for larceny, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

In our report of the above case yesterday, we were in error in stating that Miller had been convicted on the former trial. The case was tried and the jury, failing to agree, were discharged. We make this correction cheerfully, because we deem it due to Mr. Miller.

The case, yesterday, was warmly contested on both sides. Mr. Mackrell, Esq., one of the most promising young lawyers at the bar, conducted the defense, with great credit to himself and to the best advantage for his client.

Christian Flitey, indicted for larceny, Moses Lahman, prosecutor, was arraigned, and plead not guilty. It is alleged that defendant had stolen a pair of pants valued at $4.75 from the store of the prosecutor on Sixth street. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and recommended the prisoner to the extreme mercy of the Court. Same day the defendant was sentenced to pay the costs of the prosecution and undergo an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Sackett, indicted for larceny by bailee, Ellen Riley prosecutrix. It is alleged that the prosecutrix left a watch in pawn with the defendant, who is proprietor of an eating saloon on Wood street, upon which she received $25 on condition that the watch should be redeemed within two weeks, on payment of the $25 and a bonus of two dollars. On the day previous to the expiration of the two weeks, the prosecutrix tendered him the $27 and demanded the watch, which defendant refused to deliver to her. The defendant held that the watch had not been left as a pledge for the $25, to be redeemed, but that it was a bonifide purchase on the part of defendant. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Same day, motion for a new trial and reasons filed.

Jacob Wildermuth indicted for larceny, Gotleib Bowers prosecutor, was next placed on trial. The defendant was charged with stealing one set of double harness, set of single harness, a lot of bridles and halters all of the value of $40. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

James McGarth, indicted for assault and battery, was next placed upon trial. It appears that the defendant is insane, and this prosecution was brought in order to bring the case before Court for the purpose of sending him to a hospital. The jury found that the defendant was insane at the time tho offense was committed and consequently not guilty of the crime of which he was indicted.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Ellen Riley, indicted for larceny, Margaret Lally prosecutrix. It was alleged by the prosecutrix that some time last month Ellen Riley stopped at her house, in Virgin alley, for two days and nights, coming Friday and leaving on Sunday, and after she left, she (the prosecutrix) discovered that her trunk had been opened and $200 taken therefrom. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

NEVER AGAIN.

BY EULALIE.

Never again shall the heart that so loved thee
Nestle confidingly close to thine own;
Yearn as it may for the bliss of thy presence,
Still it must suffer and live on—alone.
Dreams of that Aidenn will oft times steal o'er me,
Haunting my soul with its memories vain,
Bringing in all their fresh gladness before me,
Joys that my life shall know—never again.

Never again shall thy voice's low murmur,
Gently and soothingly fall on mine ear;
Nor thy smile (brighter far to me than the sunlight,)
Illumine my pathway so desolate—drear.
I shall watch for thy coming no longer at even,
When shadows are deepening fast over the plain,
And the lamps are all hung in the blue vault of heaven,
We shall meet by their soft light—never again.

Never again in the still quiet gleaming,
When the Day falls asleep on the breast of the Night,
Shall thy steps wend their way to the heart weary waking,
To welcome and greet thee with deepest delight.
We shall meet in the land where the spring is eternal,
Where darkness ne'er cometh, nor sorrow, nor pain,
Where the flowers never fade—in that clime always vernal,
We shall meet, and our parting be never again.

LUCK MAY LIE IN A PIN.

A Story Written for My Young American Friends.

BY HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN.

Now I am going to tell a story about Luck. All of us are acquainted with Luck; there are those that see her all the time, some only at certain times of the year, others only one single day—yes, there are people that only see luck once in their life-time; but all of us do see her.

I suppose I need not tell you that when our Lord sends a little child here, He lays it in a mother's lap: this may happen in a rich man's castle, or in a working man's nicely ordered room; but then it may happen instead in an open market-place, where the cold wind blows. But what every one of you does not know, and yet is really true, is that our Lord, when He places a child here, also sends along with it good Luck, which, however, is never placed near by, but is hidden in some spot on our globe, where we look for it least; and yet it is always found at last, and that is a comfort.

Luck once was placed in an apple; that was for a man whose name was Newton. The apple fell, and thus he found his Luck. If you do not know that story, ask some one to tell it to you. We have another story to tell—a story about a pear.

There once lived a poor man, who was born poor, and had grown up poor, and was poor when he married. He was a turner by trade, and used to turn umbrella-handles and umbrella rings, but he only earned enough money by this to live from hand to mouth.

"I shall never find my Luck," said he.

Now this is a true story, which really happened. I could tell the name of the country and the place where the man lived, but that is of no consequence. The red and sour mountain-ash berries blossomed and ripened around his house and in his garden, as if they were the choicest fruit, and in the garden stood also a pear-tree, but it never had borne a pear, and yet there Luck was placed, in an invisible pear.

One night the wind blew terribly. In Avize, men said the great Dillig boulder was lifted up from the side of the road, and thrown down like a lump of clay, and so it was not at all wonderful that a big branch should have been broken from the pear-tree. The branch was taken into the workshop, and the man turned out of it, just for fun, a big pear, and another big pear, then a smaller pear, and then several very small pears.

"The tree shall bear pears once at least," he said, and gave them to the children to play with.

There are some things that are necessities in life, and among these, most certainly in wet countries, are umbrellas. Now the whole family had only one for general use. When the wind blew very hard, the umbrella would turn over, and sometimes it would break; but the man quickly mended it again—that was in his trade. With the button and string that kept the umbrella together, it went worse; it would always break too soon, just as one was folding the umbrella up.

One day, when the button had broken again, and the man hunted in vain for it on the floor, he happened to get hold of one of the smallest pears which he had turned, and had given to the children to play with.

"I cannot find the button," said the man, "but this little thing will answer." He pulled a small cord through it, and the little pear filled the place of the broken button beautifully; it was exactly right, and formed the best of fasteners: The next time he had to send umbrella-handles and rings to the capital, he added to the number a few of the small wooden pears which he had turned. They were fastened to a few new umbrellas, which were sent with a thousand others to America. They have a quick understanding there of what is of use. The little pear was soon found to hold best, and the umbrella merchant gave orders, that all the umbrellas to be sent to him after that should be fastened with the little wooden pear. Large orders were to be supplied, thousands of pears to be made; wooden pears on all umbrellas, and our man was kept busy at work. He turned and turned; the whole pear-tree was used for little wooden pears, which brought shillings that grew into dollars.

"In that pear tree my luck was placed," said the man; and soon after he had a great workshop, with plenty of women and boys to help him. Now he was all the time in good humor, and often used to say—"Luck may lie in a pin."

So also says he who tells the story; and you should know that it is true, and is a proverb in Denmark, that if you put a white pin in your mouth, you will be invisible; but it must be the right sort of a pin—one given by our Lord. I have had one of them; and whenever I come to America, the land of the New World, which is so far off, yet so near me, I shall always carry that pin with me. I can send my greeting over in a few minutes; the ocean rolls over to its shores; there the wind blows; any day I can be there when my stories are read, and perhaps see the glittering gold receive the ringing gold—the gold that is best of all, which shines in the eyes of children, and comes ringing from their lips, and the lips of their parents. I am in the very room with my friends—and yet I am invisible. I have the white pin in my mouth.

Yes, Luck may lie in a pin.—Riverside Magazine.

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR GEARY.

Upon the announcement of his renomination by the Republican Convention of the 24th, the Governor was introduced to the assemblage and delivered the following address:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: Your Committee has informed me that you have nominated me as a candidate for Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and conferred upon me the distinguished honor of being the standard-bearer of the Republican party for the approaching political contest. [Cheers.]

For this manifestation of continued confidence and appreciation I feel that any language I am competent to command is entirely too poor to express in appropriate terms the emotions of my heart, and no other resource is left me than frankly to return to you, and through you to my fellow-citizens whom you represent, my sincere thanks and gratitude.

The nomination of Hon. Henry W. Williams for Judge of the Supreme Court is exceedingly gratifying to me. His pure and unsullied character as a man, connected with a high order of talent, cultivated intellect, eminent legal attainments and energetic industry, proclaim him the right man for that position, and induced me to place him where he now is. [Applause.]

The remarkable unanimity that has characterized your action in reference to Judge Williams and myself inspires me with high hopes and brilliant anticipations. It augurs with certainty a favorable ratification by the people, and gives "goodly promise of a glorious day in action." When I contemplate the labor, anxiety of mind, and responsibility that must necessarily be devolved upon me during the canvass for an election of such magnitude, a consciousness of the difficulties surrounding the task causes me almost instinctively to shrink from the undertaking. But I confidently look to a higher Power, and to my fellow citizens, for that aid, support and encouragement which may enable me to steer the Republican ship with safety through the breakers of the coming conflict. Satisfied that my trust is not misplaced, I unhesitatingly accept the distinguished honor that has been conferred upon me by this honorable Convention. [Cheers.]

Three years ago a similar honor was conferred upon me at a period when our nation was just emerging from a most terrible war; and with the dust of battle scarcely brushed from my own garments, and politically inexperienced as I was, I ardently entered upon the contest which resulted so gloriously for the Republican cause in 1866. I did not accept the nomination then in the belief that in my own person I possessed any intrinsic merit, or had rendered any services to my country which entitled me individually to receive it; but I accepted it as a compliment to my comrades in arms and as a matter due to the three hundred and sixty-three thousand soldiers of Pennsylvania who had rendered noble services in the field, the aggregate value of which can never be estimated, and to whom we are indebted for a home and a country. On their behalf I then warmly thanked the convention, and I here desire to reiterate those thanks again to you. And now, after having served the greater portion of the term for which I was elected, and after every official act of mine has been fully criticised and discussed by the people and the press; when you, the chosen representatives of the people from every part of the Commonwealth, appear at the bar of public opinion and testify in my behalf, and confer upon me the plaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servant," I certainly need no better, no higher, no stronger verdict. [Cheers.]

In bearing the banner you have this day confided to me, I pledge you that it shall be carried at the head of the Republican column, its movements shall always be directed to the sound of the heaviest firing; and, when the conflict is over, I confidently predict the banner will be placed, as it was in 1866, in triumph upon the dome of the Capitol, without spot or blemish on its stripes, and each and every star as bright as when its first effulgence beamed on the country, and Pennsylvania will still be as true as when she signed "the sacred covenant that binds the States together in the bonds of an everlasting union." [Cheers.]

Should the people again place me in the executive chair, I will continue to use my best exertions to promote everywhere the peace, honor and welfare of my native State, and to secure all the blessings that a good government can bestow upon a free people. And it shall be my pleasure to aid the Chief Magistrate of the nation in his laudible efforts to "let us have peace," and, if necessity should require it, will aid him to preserve our national rights and honor at all hazards and every sacrifice. It shall be my duty to extend all the influence I may possess to aid in procuring adequate protection for every branch of our domestic industry and productions, and to see that exact justice shall be done to the mechanic and the laborer, as well as to the capitalist, and, as far as possible, to make them feel that their true interests are one and inseparable. [Applause.]

As a candidate it shall be my constant aim to extend, strengthen, and confirm the unity and good feeling of the Republican party, and in this work I sincerely invoke the aid of every true Republican. For my own part, I will not recognize divisions or factions in the party, but will from this time forth look upon it only as united, harmonious, patriotic, and enthusiastic in the development and determination of the great principles and measures of progress for which it was organized. I have no enemies in whose punishment I can take delight, and whatever has been said or done in the excitement of the movements preliminary to this convention that was wrong or painful to me is frankly forgiven, and as far as possible obliterated from my memory.

The Republican party has a proud record in the past, and a glorious future before it. It has accomplished more good in a shorter space of time than any other organization that ever existed, and we have reason to rejoice that it still lives, and moves, and has a being. Among its achievements is the abolishment of slavery. That scandal to humanity and opprobrium of the nation lies dead amidst its worshippers. The rights and privileges of all men are secured in their lives, without reference to race or color. In the language of Abraham Lincoln, it "cares for him who has born the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, and seeks to achieve and cherish a lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations." Each individual is animated with love for the Union and for universal liberty. Never was a Republican found guilty of firing into the flag of his country and shooting down its brave defenders. The party has sacredly decreed the payment of the entire debt incurred to save the life of the nation. In a word, it has defeated the nation's enemies, saved the Union, and caused it to be more highly respected and admired throughout the civilized world than ever before. [Applause.]

Friends of the four hundred thousand heroes who died for the country, with such a glorious record how can you surrender your Government into the hands of those who would have destroyed it within the last six years if they could? The Union is the ark of our safety. The Republican party has proven itself the true friend of the Union. Sustain the Republican party by victory, and you will thereby sustain the Union. And suffer not unrepentant rebels and their sympathizers ever to touch the hallowed sanctuaries of either State or National Governments. Then let us here "highly resolve" to preserve forever the former in "Virtue, Liberty, and Independence;" and to protect, defend, and perpetuate the latter; let us here pledge anew "our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor." Gentlemen of the Convention, again I thank you.

Governor Geary, at the close of his remarks, was enthusiastically applauded.

Rhode Island Politics.

Politically, "Rhode Island and The Providence Plantation" is a sort of Republican aristocracy. Suffrage is conditional. All citizens of the United States, without regard to color, native or naturalized, possessed of a freehold of $134, or renting for $7 per annum, and all native citizens, without regard to color, paying either a property tax of $1, or a voluntary registry tax of $1, who have resided in the State two years, or in the town in which they desire to vote six months, are legal voters. The failure of the Rhode Island Senate to join the House in ratifying the Fifteenth Constitutional Amendment is explained by some to mean the indisposition of the dominant Republican interest to make he ballot universal. But this cannot be where the conditions to its full enjoyment are so few and immaterial. As it stands, the Burnside interest is in complete ascendancy. The General is very greatly liked, and Sprague's attack helped him. His agreeable manners, good sense, and modesty, not to speak of his fine military record, make him the strong man of little Rhody.—Letter to Phila. Press.

THE New York Commercial Advertiser says: There is quite a sharp contest going on for Mr. Raymond's successor in the Times. The principal stockholders in the concern are George Jones, the publisher and business man in the concern, who owns thirty shares; Mr. Raymond's estate, thirty-four shares; James B. Taylor, fourteen shares; E. B. Morgan, of Cayuga, ten shares; A. B. Stout, ten shares; and two other shares owned by other parties, making in all one hundred shares. The shares are valued at $10,000, making the concern worth about $1,000,000. The different interests are divided as to who will be Mr. Raymond's successor. One interest favors Geo. William Curtiss. Another interest would like to see Mr. Godkin, of the Nation, and another interest is pressing Mr. District Attorney Tracey, of Brooklyn. How the matter will end it is impossible to say. The Times is a prosperous newspaper, and is paying large dividends. It is understood that Mr. Raymond made a will some time since, making Judge Benedict his administrator.

THE FUR TRADE IN ALASKA.—The steamer Constantine has arrived from Sitka with about $12,000 worth of skins from the fur-bearing animals of Alaska, such as foxes, mink, &c. The Constantine loaded these skins at Sitka and cleared for Victoria; but not finding a market at that point, they were again cleared for this port, without being landed at Victoria. There is apparent infraction of law in this case, which Collector Miller is investigating, as the law of Congress clearly prohibits the killing of any fur bearing animals, provided that the Secretary of the Treasury may permit the killing of fur-bearing animals "under regulations," except fur seals. The case of the importation of the furs by the Alexander, by the same parties, has been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington; meantime the furs are safely in the custody of the government. —San Francisco Bulletin.

THE LONDON METROPOLITAN RAILWAY at present reports its receipts at $38,000 a week, the road having been extended from four and a half to seven and a half miles in length. During the last week in March, this road conveyed 800,000 passengers, or at the rate of forty-two millions a year, and dispatched every day 368 trains. The Metropolitan Railway will soon be connected by a tunnel with the other side of the Thames, and trains will be run to the Crystal Palace, at Sydenham. The tunnel now building will be constructed at a much less cost than the old tunnel, designed by Brunel. It is situated a few feet deeper under the bed of the river, and thus runs through tough clay, which excludes the water. Brunel's tunnel ran through loose gravel, and while in course of construction was several times flooded by the irruption of the Thames.

A COLORED woman, named Elizabeth Parker, over eighty years of age, arrived at St. Joseph, Mo., recently. Twenty-one years ago she was sold at the slave market in St. Joseph to a trader, who took her, with about one thousand other slaves, to Louisiana. Since the war she has been working in New Orleans, and at length secured sufficient money to return to St. Joseph. When she was carried away she left two sons behind her, then young lads; during her long absence she was in perfect ignorance of their whereabouts and condition. When informed that one of her sons was still living, she became almost frantic with joy, and danced, laughed and cried most vehemently. She was a former slave of John D. Ritchie, a wealthy farmer, living about nine miles from St. Joseph.

THE Pennsylvania Central Railroad's agreement to aid the proposed road from Parkesburg to Delaware City requires that the latter company shall raise $900,000 of common stock. The subscriptions are now $200,000. Immediate efforts are to be made all along the line to secure the balance, and those interested have confident hopes of success.—Phila. North American.

Any person who will look at the map will see that a railroad from Parkesburg to Delaware City will be a direct route, and will naturally affect Philadelphia as a shipping port, and will give an outlet during the whole year. Below Delaware City we presume there would be no obstructions by ice in the winter.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 25, 1869.

The oil market was again considerably excited to-day, and while the sales of Crude were larger than usual, there was little done in Refined. Compared with yesterday, prices are lower, and at the close it looked as though the bears were in the ascendancy, though as the saying is, it was "nip and tuck," the forces being pretty evenly divided, and it is difficult at times to tell which has the advantage. For several days past, however, the market has been decidedly "bullish" as both crude and refined have advanced materially since the early part of the week, but to-day, as already intimated, the "bears" concentrated their fire, and forced the "bulls" temporarily, it may be, to beat a retreat.

CRUDE.

The biggest thing we have to report under this heading was the offering to buy 10,000 bbls sellers option all the year, at 14. The offer, we unnerstand, came from parties in Oil City; and no sooner was it made than it was accepted, some three or four persons clubbing together to make up the complement. The sellers, however, offered to put up a margin of a dollar per bbl and demanded the same thing of the buyers and this they declined, and the sale therefore fell through. Subsequently, however, the same parties bought 3,500 bbls without a margin on either side. We can also report 1,500 bbls each July, August and September, at $6, on cars at Venango City; and 3,000 sellers option, last three months, at 14½. Spot or June seller may be quoted at 14½@14¾, the inside figure offered and the outside figure asked.

REFINED

The market was quiet and dull and compared with yesterday, prices are lower. Sale of 500 bbls June at 13¼ and 1,000 do. at 31—this delivery sold yesterday at 31. July was quoted at 31¾@32, against sales yesterday at 32¾. The late months are nominally unchanged.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant six feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather clear and warm—mercury at 4 P. M. 85.

The Glendale from St. Louis, is the only transient arrival we have to report. She is one of the best boats in the trade, and makes her trips with great regularity.

The R. C. Grey departed for St. Louis, with a fair trip and engagements below.

The Kenton departed for Portsmouth, and the New State for Wheeling.

The Tom Farrow did not get off until early yesterday morning. The Hawkeye departed yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Clark Vanhook, of the Great Republic, was in the city yesterday.

James Shouse and Crate Reno, were the pilots on the R. C. Grey.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, will positively depart for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Wauanita, Capt. C. A. Dravo, will be first boat out for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi.

—The Armadillo left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—The Maggie Hays went on the Marine Railway at Cincinnati on Wednesday.

—The Messenger left Cincinnati for the Upper Mississippi on Wednesday, and on her return will lie up at that place for repairs.

—The Nashville Union and American says that "Emma Floyd was the maiden name of the wife of Captain W. B. Donaldson, Master of the Great Republic, now being tried at St. Louis for the murder of a negro." Emma Floyd was the maiden name of the wife of Captain Sam Barr, formerly chief clerk of the Great Republic.—Cin. Gazette.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: Capt. John Woodburn has closed contracts with C. T. Dumont, for the building of two pair of engines, for boats to be used in the Arkansas and White River trades, one pair for a side-wheel steamer, (the hull of which will be 200 feet long, 33 feet beam,) 18 inches in diameter, with 7 feet stroke, and 4 38-inch boilers, 20 feet long, 4 flues in each boiler, shaft to work 10-feet buckets. One pair for a stern-wheel steamer, 11-inch cylinders, 4 feet stroke, 2 38-inch boilers, 4 flues in each, the shaft to work a 19-feet bucket. Also, one boat for the Leni Leoti's engines, with new 3 36-inch boilers, twenty feet long. Capt. Sam. T. Hambleton builds the hull and cabin. The boats will be built under the superintendence of Capt. Jno. Woodburn.

—We find the following paragraph in the St. Louis Dispatch: George Fahnestock and daughter, of Philadelphia, perished on the Ohio river, in the steamer United States, in December. A passenger residing in Cincinnati has received a letter inquiring the time of their death, in order to determine a legal question as to the distribution of their estates, whose solution depends on whether the father or the daughter died first. This will be difficult to ascertain.

—The rates of freight to Arkansas river were advanced twenty-five per cent at St. Louis, Tuesday.

—The Mississippi Valley Navigation Company have again got a boat contracted for to be built on the DeHaven plan. The circumstances of making the contract, place, time, etc., are not given, to be sure, but then the Memphis papers contain a full description of the proposed steamer.

—The Belle Alton narrowly escaped destruction last Sunday while laying at Alton. Mr. John Hallet, Clerk, perceived smoke issuing from the rear of the cabin, and upon investigating the origin, discovered that the chambermaid's room was on fire, he rang the alarm, and with the assistance of some gentlemen who happened to be on shore succeeded in extinguishing the fire before material damage was done.

—Captain Cade has sold the R. P. Converse to Captain Bosworth, of Jacksonport, for $4,000, and she now plies between Duval's Bluff and Jacksonport, on White river. Capt. Cade is anxious to purchase another stern-wheel steamer, but wants one a trifle larger than his last possession.

—The Mary Davage, Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed by Cincinnati on Monday night.

—The Ironsides, en route to St. Louis, was at Cairo on Wednesday.

—The Leonidas and Bellevernon were at Louisville on Wednesday.

—The Argosy was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh yesterday.

—The Great Republic had an excursion of over two hundred ladies (?) for Carrollton Gardens when she left New Orleans, and has 2,200 bars of railroad iron.

—An Evansville paper says: M. A. Parrish, of Nashville, was a passenger by the Brandies. This gentleman was never beyond the limits of his native State of Tennessee, nor made a trip on a steamboat before. He was the principal owner of the Eclipse, Princess and Albertine, and has been connected with the Cumberland river steamboat interests for thirty years.

—A Nashville boatman has had his life insured for $50,000.

VALUABLE CITY LOTS FOR SALE.

The undersigned, as trustee in the partition of the real estate of

AGNES KNOX, Deceased,

By order of the District Court of Allegheny county, will sell at public sale, on the premises, on

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1869,

At 2 o'clock P. M., that very valuable property on Fifth avenue, city of Pittsburgh, consisting of TWO LOTS. First—A lot fronting on Market street 30 feet and extending the same width, along the south side of Fifth avenue 101 feet to Market alley. Second—A lot on the opposite side of Market alley, fronting on Fifth avenue 20 feet and running back, preserving the same width, along Market alley 30 feet. On the first mentioned lot are FOUR FRAME TENEMENTS, and on the other a THREE STORY BRICK BUILDING.

These lots are among the most valuable in the city of Pittsburgh, being on the principal street and in the centre of business. The attention of capitalists is particularly invited to them, as they are desirable chiefly for the value of the lots, the buildings not being of much consequence, and possession for building purposes can be obtained on 3 months' notice. The property now rents for over eight thousand dollars. The purchaser will receive the rents after July 1st.

THE TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, and the remaining two-thirds in two equal annual payments, with semi-annual interest from day of sale, secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.

J. W. F. WHITE,

June 5, 1869. TRUSTEE.

CHERRY SEEDER.

CHERRY SEEDER.

Every family using Cherries, whether for pies, canning or drying, should have one of these valuable machines. It not only saves time and labor, but will more than pay for itself in seeding one bushel of cherries.

The Machine is cheap, simple, durable and handsome. The hopper is adjustible, thereby adapting it to all sizes of cherries.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 137⅛.

THE next Southern movement is likely to be for the encouragement of an immigration of Chinese coolies via the Pacific Railway.

FROM Virginia, Kentucky and Southern Illinois, we hear the most flattering accounts of the wheat harvest now in progress. In quality, the grain has never been surpassed, while the yield, per acre and in breadth cut over, has not yet been equalled. From every part of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, the same report also comes to us.

ACCORDING to Pennsylvania law the Fifth of July is not a holiday, and all commercial paper falling due upon that day is payable upon that day, and not, as some assert, on the third. The fact that the Fourth of July, which is a public holiday, falls on Sunday does not in any way affect the legal payments of the Fifth.

THE geological survey now in progress, under the direction of the Kansas Pacific Railway, has developed, it is said, the existence of a bed of coal on the Smoky Hill route 1,500 miles in length and 100 miles in width, with a depth of from 20 to 50 feet. The coal is said to be of a superior quality, and well adapted for locomotive use. Its area embraces a field similar in extent to the coal regions of Pennsylvania, and it is particularly valuable on account of the scarcity of wood.

HON. ADOLPH E. BORIE, Secretary of the Navy, has resigned his seat in President GRANT'S Cabinet, and Mr. GEO. M. ROBESON, of New Jersey, is his successor. During his brief experience of public life, the Pennsylvania holder of a portfolio has met with but little courtesy from the public press, but has, nevertheless, attended well and quietly to his duties. What his reasons for retiring are we have not learned, but probably he has decided that it was scarcely worth while to abandon his pleasant home life for a public position where his every word and action were criticised and maligaantly misconstrued. His successor was formerly Attorney General of New Jersey.

OUR political opponents are not all simple or dishonest. They number in their ranks a proportion of very capable men, and very many more who are heartily sincere in their political action. We could wish that they would, as a more general thing, exhibit the concurrence of integrity and brains in the same individual members, but confess that, if that wish were gratified, the so-called Democratic party would in the next hour be as dead as JULIUS CAESAR. Under the present system, it appears to be happily ordered, for the prolongation of the Democratic life, that the capable men are not a whi too sincere, while the honest Democrats have usually no more mental calibre than the law allows. It is needless to add that, under this distribution of the partizan forces, the intellect of the party is wholly successful in moulding its voting muscle to the especial profit of the few leaders.

WE CANNOT do justice to the neat little climax in yesterday's Post, unless we reprint it as follows:

First, the constitution, the bargain of union between the States was broken; then the flames of sectional hate were kindled; a geographical party was formed; civil war was fought under the solemn protestation that it was not to set the negro free, but to restore and maintain the government as it was; and so on, under a succession of false pretences, has blood been freely poured out, mourning and distress sent into all quarters, the nation been loaded with a crushing debt, its high places occupied by charlatan upstarts, waste and corruption infused into all departments of the State and Federal Governments, civil law superceded by military commissions, and at last comes the grand consummation for which all these wrongs and curses have been invoked. The question is fairly put to the people in Ohio and this State - in Ohio to ratify or not; in Pennsylvania to rescind the unauthorized ratification of the last Legislature. And on this the Democracy join issue with their opponents, confident in the soundness and justice of their cause.

Our neighbor's frankness thus allays the growing public suspicion that it was about to join with its party in going back upon its political record of the ten years past. Of this, there seems to be, no longer, really a shadow of danger. The Democracy of Pennsylvania cling to their old ground—that Republicanism violated the constitution, kindled the flames of sectional hate, formed a geographical party and inaugurated the civil war—all for the sole purpose of establishing negro equality under the XVth Article. That is good strong ground and we hope the Post and its friends will stick to it like men. We shall meet them there again, and ask for nothing better.

THE PHILADELPHIA PLATFORM.

We copy the following paragraph from the Pittsburgh Commercial of the 25th:

To the resolution indorsing the administration of Governor Geary as wise, economical and honest, and particularly commending his efforts to restrain the evils of special legislation, an amendment was submitted, "pledging the Republican party of Pennsylvania to retrenchment of public expenses, and a reformation of abuses in the management of public affairs." This amendment was rejected as irrelevant to the body of the resolution.

The proposed amendment, as our neighbor quotes it, was wholly unobjectionable; more than that, its rejection presents another blunder similar to that which our District Attorney's Convention made in Allegheny county, in rejecting a resolution of equally commendable purport.

We confess that we have been at a loss to understand how the shrewd politicians of the State Convention could have been induced to "go back" upon such a proper expression of Republicanism. But our inquiries on this point have reached a perfectly satisfactory solution, drawn from the unwritten history of the Philadelphia meeting. The facts abundantly explain the defeat of the amendment; indeed, under the peculiar circumstances, even the Mosaic Decalogue would have fared no better and might have been pitched out of the window. These facts were as follows:

The amendment was offered by Mr. M. S. QUAY, of Beaver, and sent to the Clerk's desk. It was such an illegible scrawl that the Clerk could not read it, and he sent it back to Mr. QUAY, the supposed author, to read it himself. But even he had to give it up,—and, confessing that it was proposed by an outsider in the lobby, this outsider was sent for, as the only man in Philadelphia who could decipher the manuscript. The blushing author at last came to the front and read his composition to the Convention. Most unfortunate disclosure! The thing was good enough in itself, but no respectable gathering of Pennsylvania politicians could stand the paternity thus revealed. The amendment was promptly voted down, and its unhappy author, Mr. C. D. BRIGHAM, the nominal editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial, subsided forever from the scene! It was his first and last appearance on that stage, and on the whole was not a success.

Hereafter, for the sake of so good a cause, we implore our neighbor not to imperil even the most self-evident truth by exhibiting himself publicly as its champion. "The blunder was a grievous one," and we remonstrate against its repetition under any circumstances whatever.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT.

The political canvass of '69 in Pennsylvania presents objects worth contending for. The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth has been too long administering justice to its people in the interests of a party with which that people have had no sympathies for many a year. Of late, circumstances have enabled us to check this mischief by placing upon the bench a temporary majority politically in accordance with the prevailing sentiment of the State. But Judge WILLIAMS holds his place,—and thereby excludes a Democratic preponderance—only by the Executive appointment, and unless he be rechosen by the people the Supreme Court will again have a majority of its Judges of that party. Is it proposed by any Republican, with his eyes open, to surrender that tribunal to the control of the opposition by the failure to cast one whole vote for HENRY W. WILLIAMS?

Again, the Governor of Pennsylvania takes part in our State legislation. The veto power gives to him practically a controlling influence, and upon questions of political bearing this influence would certainly be exercised for political ends. The Governor whom we choose in October next, will hold his office from January '70 for three years. At the session beginning in January '71, the Commonwealth is to be re-apportioned for legislative districts, and the bill which shall make this division cannot become a law without the Executive approval. Electing an opposition Governor in '69, it will do us no good in that respect to pile up the heaviest majorities in the two Houses in the year following, for that Executive can and will constitutionally defy them all. What say our Republicans to this? Shall we throw away our control of the next apportionment this fall, by withholding the smallest portion of our votes from JOHN W. GEARY? Let this business be well considered by our friends, before they shall resolve to indulge any transient pique, or humor any passing dissatisfaction with the party, by withholding their hearty efforts from the election of the Republican nominee.

This matter of the State apportionment is a very important one, and must not be ignored in the coming canvass. The Governor and Senators whom we choose this year are to have part in shaping that division, and it is of the last consequence that the Republicans of Pennsylvania spare no efforts to secure that part to the right political hands. Otherwise, a mischief will be done which it may require the efforts of a generation to repair.

THE FORT WAYNE RAILWAY.

The corporation which has constructed and heretofore controlled the railway from Pittsburgh, via Fort Wayne, to Chicago, perishes forever from an active existance, so far as concerns the public, within a week from this date. Its line of road is absorbed into that of the Pennsylvania Railway, which hereafter is to assume its absolute management, working it as the main Western division of one great line from the sea-board to that point in the distant Lake country of the Northwest. Hereafter, Pittsburgh becomes the central depot of this magnificent trunk-railway, and, for the convenience of its operations, cannot fail to present to its management considerations of vastly greater local importance than ever before. Covering here also the intersection of the main line with that valuable branch—itself a work of first-class magnitude—which finds at present its Western terminus at Cincinnati, and with other roads which may be regarded as cordially and perpetually affiliated with the principal trunk in a mutuality of interest, our city, it seems to us, has gained largely, in its title to the just consideration of a corporation which is hereafter to find itself less prepared than ever to disregard our local claims, even were it so inclined. It is henceforth to be, more than ever before, within the reach, as within the common interests, of the city and of the Pennsylvania Railway, to be very useful to each other, and we rely upon the sagacity of the corporation and upon the large public spirit of our municipality to make the still closer and more inseperable connection of the future years a constant source of their mutual advantage. Neither can well afford to disregard the legitimate claims of the other, under the new condition of things which give to Pittsburgh the key of the railway position, while its outlets in either direction are completely under one corporate control.

But, in the midst of these anticipations for the future, we should not be unmindful of what has been already achieved. It is a debt of lasting gratitude which Pittsburgh owes to the skill, the patience and the courage displayed in the management of the Fort Wayne road in the past fourteen years. Such qualities, which have won so complete a triumph in this perfected connection with the vigorous heart of the West—for that part of our inhabited civilization was as far removed from us fourteen years since in the valley of the Upper Mississippi, as it is to-day on the other slope of the Rocky Mountains—merit a distinct and grateful recognition from our people. TO GEORGE W. CASS, and to the gentlemen who have been associated with him in the fourteen years of struggle which was 'ere this time a victory, and which closes now with an assured position as permanent as it is honorable in the material history of the Republic, no small share of the public acknowledgements is due, for the sagacious counsel and the faithful administration, through many a serious trial, which have at last made the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway a magnificent success. Mr. CASS now retires from the place which he has filled for nearly all these years, but not without leaving behind an official record of which any American citizen might be proud. In the great work which owes so much of its accomplishment to his own individual qualifications for the trust, he may justly claim the great meed of a public benefactor. He has done more for his city, his county, his State, and for the other communities which look daily upon the fruits of his persevering fidelity, as the President of this Railroad, than any future civic or political triumphs in his experience can possibly match. It is said that he is about to appear prominently in our State politics. Our regrets, that so capable a railway officer should be transformed into an indifferent politician, forbid that we should forget his higher claims upon the public regard, or his title to this cordial and sincere recognition of his past services in a more honorable field.

PITTSBURGH AND CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

Meeting of Citizens at the Second Ward School House Relative to Granting the Right of Way to the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Through Cherry Alley — A Remonstrance — Preamble and Resolutions.

A public meeting of the citizens of Pittsburgh relative to granting the right of way through Cherry Alley to the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad was held at the Second Ward School House, at eight o'clock last evening.

On motion of Dr. B. Arthurs, Thomas Ewing, Esq., was called to the chair, and Thos. S. Bigelow, Esq., was chosen Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting to be the consideration of the question above stated, and announced that the meeting was ready for business.

Brief remarks were made by several persons present, after which, on motion of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Hughart, President of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, was called upon to address the meeting.

Mr. Hughart, in a brief address, stated his reasons for asking the right of way, and presented many forcible and incontrovertable arguments as to the advantages to be derived from the grant, both by the city and Company.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY MR HUGHART.

Dr. Bruce—I would like to ask, Mr. Hughart, how long the Company intend to use Cherry alley?

Mr. Hughart—Say for at least two, three or five years, with a single track; it would only be temporary, or until the necessary outlet could be obtained by the Water street route.

Dr. Bruce—Would you, Mr. Hughart, agree to remove the track and replace the alley in good repair at the expiration of say three or five years?

Mr. Hughart—Yes; on behalf of the company I would agree to that, for at the expiration of that time the lease of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad will be effected or its independence fully established.

Mr. D. W. C. Carroll to Mr. Hughart—Would the lease of the Fort Wayne Railroad affect the route as proposed over Cherry alley; in other words, do you want the route now; would it be of any benefit under the existing lease?

Mr. Hughart—As I understand negotiations are pending for the lease of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and their demands for the north end of Cherry alley is for the ostensible purpose of defeating the objects of the Connellsville Railroad. The lease of the Fort Wayne Railroad, unless the lease of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad is consummated, will not interfere with the route over Cherry alley.

In reply to a question of Mr. Ogden, Mr. Hughart stated that it was decided to run the freight trains all by night.

A remonstrance, signed by some twenty persons, which was said represented over $1,000,000 worth of property on Cherry alley, was then read:

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTION—RIGHT OF WAY DOWN WATER STREET RECOMMENDED.

Mr. T. S. Bigelow read the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, We are informed that the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company are about to apply to Councils for the privilege of laying a track upon and along Cherry alley from Water to Liberty street, in order to afford that road a connection with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad; and whereas, the granting of said privilege would not only greatly depreciate the value of property abutting on and in the immediate vicinity of said alley, but by crossing seven of the main thoroughfares of the city will endanger the lives and render inconvenient the passage of the vast multitude of citizens who daily pass to and from these thoroughfares; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we believe the use of Cherry alley by said railroad company would be in the highest degree injurious to the interests of the city and the owners of property in the vicinity thereof, crossing, as it would, main avenues at right angles to the point of steepest grade, and thereby endanger travel thereon besides interfering with the use of several of our most important churches; that we are not hostile to the Connellsville road, but sympathise with its late struggle for existence and now against the effort to destroy its usefulness by cutting it off from western and northwestern connections, and we most respectfully request Councils not to grant said road said privilege of passing along Cherry alley, but at the same time would recommend the granting of the right to pass down Water street, and from the Point up Duquesne Way to such connection as it may be able to make.

Mr. Ogden stated that Mr. Hughart had informed him that the Company did not particularly desire the route over Cherry alley; it had only been suggested as the most feasible temporary route. But the object of the Connellsville Railroad was to secure a western connection for their road, and if any gentlemen in the meeting had a more practical route to propose he would be glad to hear it. He was a friend of the Connellsville Railroad, and favored the resolution granting the Company the right of way over Water street.

Mr. Floyd asked how the company proposed crossing the Allegheny river, in case the Water street route was secured.

Mr. Hughart stated that a bridge high enough to allow boats to pass under would be built at that point, and by way of information he would state that there was a company who had a charter for a partra ite bridge at the point. The Connellsville Company propose effecting a plan with said company for the building of the bridge, suited to the uses of the company, as well as for the purposes for which it was originally intended.

Dr. Bruce moved to substitute the following: That the City Councils grant right of way over Cherry alley to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company for three years after the reconstruction of the track, providing said Company enter in bond in the sum of $25,000 to remove said track at the expiration of three years. The Doctor stated that he understood that a New York clique were negotiating for the lease of Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, and it was their intention to run the road over into the city at the Point, erect depots, &c., and carry on their business there.

Mr. Wallace moved to extend the time to four years.

Mr. Leonard offered a substitute that the City Councils be instructed to consider and afford the Connellsville Railroad all the necessary facilities for connecting with the western railroads by means of the tunnel, but to oppose and not to grant them the right of way over any streets or alleys north of the tunnel, and particularly Cherry alley.

Mr. J. M. Gazzam favored the resolution.

Mr. John Wilson here moved that the meeting take no further action on the question, but that the subject be referred back to the Railroad Committee with instructions to report at the next meeting of citizens to be convened at the call of the Chairman, a plan for the Connellsville Railroad to make a western connection.

The Chairman then stated that the question now before the house was the amendment of Dr. Bruce to grant the Connelsville Railroad the right of way over Cherry alley for three years. The amendment was lost.

A motisn was then made and adopted instructing the Councils to favorably consider the Water street route, and adopt an ordinance providing for the granting of said right.

The meeting then adjouned.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

From Purdon, page 924, we take the following as the law in relation to the pursuance of worldly employment on Sunday:

3. If any (c) person shall do or perform any worldly employment or business (d) whatsoever on the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday, works of necessity and charity only excepted, (e) shall use or practice any unlawful game, shooting, sport, or diversion whatsoever on the same day, and be convicted thereof, every such person so offending shall, for every such offense (h) forfeit and pay four dollars, (i) to be levied by distress; or in case he shall refuse or neglect to pay the said sum, or goods and chattels cannot be found, whereof to levy the same by distress; he or she shall suffer six days' imprisonment in the house of correction of the proper county; Provided always, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the dressing of victuals in private families, bake houses, lodging-houses, inns and other houses of entertainment, for the use of sojourners, travelers or strangers, or to hinder watermen from landing their passengers, or ferrymen from carrying over the water travelers, or persons removing with their families on the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday, nor to the delivery of milk or the necessaries of life before nine o'clock in the forenoon, nor after five o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

4. Provided always, That every such prosecution shall be commenced within seventy-two hours after the offense shall be committed.

(c) This act is binding on the Jews, and others who keep the seventh day as their Sabbath. As a civil and political institution, the establishment and regulation of the Sabbath is within the just powers of the civil government. The acts in favor of liberty of conscience are not inconsistent with the Sunday laws: these are not intended to enforce religion, but to protect the social customs of the people.

(d) Travelling is not within the act. But a carrier driving his team along the highway is liable for the penalty. And driving a public conveyance for the transportation of passengers, is not a work of necessity, within the exception of the act. The travelling which is not forbidden is that by private conveyance; the running of public conveyances is within the prohibition. The act embraces every kind of wordly employment, whether in the exercise of a person's ordinary calling or not. But it does not include such household or family work as pertains directly to the proper duties, necessities and comforts of the day, such as the driving of the family to church, by a servant, in his master's private conveyance. Under this act an executory contract made on Sunday is void. But it does not avoid an executed contract consummated on Sunday.

(e) The hire of a carriage on Sunday by a son, to visit his father, creates a legal contract. A verdict may be taken on Sunday. And a will may be taken on that day, where there is danger of immediate death, or a well grounded belief of the existence of danger.

(h) One penalty can only be incurred in one day for exercising a person's business on a Sunday.

(i) See act 26 April 1855, increasing the penalty in Allegheny county to $25, and the imprisonment to be no less than ten and not more than thirty days, and giving jurisdiction to the Mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the burgesses of the several boroughs in that county.

—The carrying of passengers in a railway car, in a city, on Sunday, is unlawful, and will be restrained by injunction, at the cost of the parties aggrieved. 23 Leg. Int. 340.

The following is the law in relation to taverns, saloons, &c.:

5. All persons who are found drinking and tippling in alehouses, taverns, or other public house or place, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or any part thereof, shall for every offence forfeit and pay one shilling and sixpence to any constable that shall demand the same, to the use of the poor; and all constables are hereby empowered, and by virtue of their office required, to search public houses and places suspected to entertain such tipplers, and then, when found, quietly to disperse; but in case of refusal, to bring the persons so refusing before the next justice of the peace, who may commit such offenders to the stocks, or bind them to their good behaviour, as to him shall seem requisite. And the keepers of such alehouses, taverns or other public house or place, as shall countenance or tolerate any such practices, being convicted thereof, by the view of a single magistrate, his own confession, or the proof of one or more credible witnesses, shall for every offence forfeit and pay ten shillings, to be recovered as and for the uses above said.

6. Provided always, That nothing in this act be construed to prevent victualling houses or other public house or place from supplying the necessary occasions for travellers, inmates, lodgers or others, on the first day of the week, with victuals and drink in moderation, for refreshment only; of which necessary occasion for refreshment, as also moderation, the magistrate before whom complaint is made, shall be judge; any law, usage or custom in this province to the contrary notwithstanding. (a)

7 It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to sell, trade or barter in any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or for the keeper or keepers of any hotel, inn, tavern, ale house, beer house, or other public house or place, knowingly to allow or permit any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider, to be drank on or within the premises or house occupied or kept by such keeper or keepers, his, her or their agents or servants, on the said first day of the week.

8. Any person or persons violating the provisions of the foregoing section, shall for each and every offense, forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars, one-half of which shall be paid to the prosecutor, and the other half to the guardians of the poor of the city or county in which suit is brought, or in counties having no guardians of the poor, then to the overseers of the poor of the township, ward or borough in which the offense was committed; to be recovered before any mayor, alderman, burgess, or justice of the peace, as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable, in any action of debt brought in the name of the Commonwealth, as well for the use of the guardians of the poor (or for the overseers of the poor, of the township, ward or borough, as the case may be) as for the uses suing; Provided, That when any prosecutor is himself a witness, on any trial under the provisions of this section, then the whole penalty or forfeiture shall be paid to the guardians or overseers as aforesaid; And provided further, That it shall be a misdemeanor in office for any such mayor, alderman, burgess or justice of the peace, to neglect to render to the said guardians of the poor and the prosecutor the amount of such penalty, within ten days from the payment of the same.

9. In addition to the civil penalties imposed by the last preceding section, for a violation of the provisions of the first section of this act, every person who shall violate the provisions of that section shall be taken and deemed to have committed a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof in any Criminal Court in this Commonwealth, be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, and be imprisoned in the county jail for a period not less than ten nor more than sixty days, at the discretion of the Court.

(a.) Selling liquor to a traveller, on Sunday, is a violation of the act of 1794.

German Library Association.

An unofficial report of the proceedings of this Association, at the meeting Thursday evening was published, and some incorrectness is complained of. By request, therefor, we publish the following official report: The Library Association, we may state, numbers some two hundred and fifty members, and embodies a very inteligent portion of the German population. In accordance with a request of twelve members of the German Library Association, the President called a meeting for Thursday evening at eight o'clock, at the Library rooms, 214 Liberty street, for the purpose of expressing their views in regard to the proposed demonstration on the Fourth of July.

The meeting was quite largely attended, and shortly after eight o'clock C. Meyran, the President of the Association, called the meeting to order, stated the object of the same, and in his address expressed his views and opinion that a participation by the Library Association as such, in any demonstration of this kind, was antagonistic to the spirit and charter of the Association, and requested the members to codsider well and carefully any proposed action in the matter, and not to forget the true object of the Association as expressed in its charter, the "Diffusion of useful knowledge and the encouragement of Literature."

A motion was hereupon made by Major G. Schleiter that inasmuch as the proposed demonstration is not a proper subject for the consideration of the Library Association and contrary to the spirit of the charter, this meeting adjourned forthwith. The motion was carried and the meeting adjourned.

GEO. POHL, Secretary.

After the adjournment of the meeting, Dr. Meinertzhagen requested the remaining members to permit him to read a series of resolutions which he had prepared for the occasion. Of course these resolutions do not express the sentiments of the Library Association, and are merely the expression of some of its members.

The Sunday Parade.—Notwithstanding the many remonstrances the German Societies have decided to hold their celebration on Sunday, July the 4th. It is the wish of every good citizen that they may abstain from imbibing anything very exhilerating on that occasion, but in the meantime, should any, or anybody else, wish to exhilerate to some purpose—go to No. 246 Penn street, and try Dr. Gillespie's new laughing gas, where you will awake from your transports to find every aching tooth extracted, and to question yourself "how and when was all this done?" Bring along your parade.

"Julia" writes us a communication protesting against the object of the meeting in Allegheny to-night claiming that it is called as the result of prejudice and self interest.

THE SYMPTONS OF CONSUMPTION.

Paleness of the countenance.
Spitting, or expectoration of pus.
This pus sinks in water.
It is sometimes streaked with blood.
There is chilliness or shiverings, and flashes of heat.
There is a pearly whiteness of the eyes.
The hair of the head falls off.
At times there is a circumscribed red spot on one or both cheeks.
There is swelling of the hands and feet.
There is great debility and emaciation of the body.
There is a high colored state of the urine.
With a deposit on standing like brick dust.
There is oftentimes a great thirst.
The blood is hurried through the arteries and veins.
The pulse is over a hundred, and even as high as one hundred and forty a minute.
The veins on the surface of the body are bluer than usual, and languid.
As the disease progresses the debility increases.
The expectoration becomes more copious.
The finger nails are incurvated.
There is a marasmus and wasting of all the powers of life.
There is often pain in one or both lungs.
There is often diarrhoea and faintness
There is great sinking of the vital forces.
When there are turbercles, small portions of turberculous matter will be expectorated.
This tubercular matter has an offensive odor.
On an examination with a lung sound, rattling and gurgling is heard.
There is always more or less cough.
Some of these symptons are always present in pulmonary consumption, and nearly or quite all of them in different stages of the disease.

No disease of which we have any knowledge is so common and so almost invariably fatal; yet this need not be the case if the earlier symptoms were heeded. Time and again we have called attention to Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, which will in every instance of a recent cough arrest the progress of the disease and hinder its development, and even after it has become settled will often cure it and arrest further decay of the lungs.

Sold at the great Medicine Store, No. 167 LIBERTY STREET, one door from St. Clair. Dr. Keyser may be consulted at his LIBERTY STREET OFFICE EVERY DAY UNTIL 12 o'clock, and at his resident office, No. 120 Penn street, from 1 to 4 o'clock.

WORDS OF WEIGHT FOR WIVES AND MOTHERS.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections and all complaints of the visceral organs—and as a preventive of malirious disorders, is proverbial: but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires it its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and survive, and discared the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 2, 1869.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

All Stockholders, as registered on the Books of this Company on the 30th day of April, 1869, will be entitled to subscribe for TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. of their respective interests in New Stock, at par, as follows:
First. Fifty per cent. at the time of subscription, between the 15th day of May, 1869, and the 30th day or June, 1869.
Second. Fifty per cent. between the 15th day of November, 1869, and the 31st day of December, 1869; or, if Stockholders should prefer, the whole amount may be paid up at the time of subscription, and each instalment so paid up shall be entitled to a pro rata of the Dividend that may be declared on full shares.
Third. That every Stockholder holding less than four shares, shall be entitled to subscribe for one share; and those holding more than a multiple of four shares shall be entitled to subscribe for an additional share.
Fourth. All shares upon which instalments are yet to be paid under Resolution of May 13, 1868, will be entitled to their allotment of the Twenty-five per cent. at par, as though they were paid in full.

NOTICE.

CITY TAXES, 1869.

In accordance with Section 6th, Page 298 of City Digest,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

TO THE

CITIZENS OF PITTSBURGH,

That the assessments for 1869 of City, City Building, Special, Poor, Business, City School and Ward School Taxes and City Water Rents have been returned to me for collection.
The above taxes are subject to a DEDUCTION OF FIVE PER CENTUM if paid on or before the FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, and TWO PER CENTUM if paid between the FIRST DAY OF AUGUST and the FIFTEENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER.
No deduction will be allowed on taxes paid between September fifteenth and October first.
An addition of five per centum will be made to all taxes unpaid October first, and an additional five per centum will be added to all taxes remaining unpaid on November first.

STATE MERCANTILE LICENSES!

The State Mercantile Appraiser has returned to me for collection the appraisement for 1869. State Mercantile Licenses must be paid on or before July 1st, 1869.
All Licenses remaining unpaid at that date will be placed in the hands of Aldermen for collection.
A. J. COCHRAN,
CITY TREASURER, 4th AVENUE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 25, 1869.

Gold was very strong to-day, opening at 137¼, advancing to 137½, and closing strong at 137¼.

Government bonds are well sustained at the average quotations of the day.

Stocks have advanced from one to two per cent and close strong, with a further advancing tendency.

Money is easier on call loans, but stringent for long business paper.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 137¼; Silver, 128; Eighty-one's, 121⅛; Five Twenties, 1862, 122; do 1864, 116⅞; do 1865, 118; do 1865, Consols, 119⅝; do 1867, 119⅝; do 1868, 119½; Ten Forties, 108¼; New York Central, 93; Erie, —; Reading, 98¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 157½; Ohio & Mississippi, 33; Michigan Southern, 106½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 99; Chicago & Rock Island, 119; Chicago & North Western, 83; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 96; Adams Express Company, 62½; Merchants Union Express, 15¼; Pacific Mail, 86⅛; Western Union Telegraph Company, 39¼; Am. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25, 1869.

Money rather easier, the rate varying from coin interest to 7 currency and 1-32 commission until near three o'clock, when it fell to 7 currency. Sterling firm at 9½@9¾. Gold dull; opened at 137⅛, advanced to 137¾, and closed at 137⅛. Carrying rate 1-32 and 7@12 per cent.

Governments a shade better, closing steady: Coupons '81, 121¼@121⅜; do. '62, 122@122⅛; do. 64, 116⅞@117⅛; do. '65, 118@118½; do. new, 119⅝@119¾; do. '67, 119⅝@119¾; do. '68, 119¼@119¾; 10-40s, 108⅛@108¼.

State bonds firmer: Missouris, 91; old Tennessees, 62¾; new do. 58½; old North Carolinas, 58¼; new do 55¼; old Virginias, 58; new do., 61⅝.

Stocks strong and active with a marked advance on all leading shares, closing firm.

Bidding prices at 5:30: Cumberland, 32¼; Wells Express, 31¼; American, 41; Adams, 62½; United States, 73½; Merchants Union, 15¼; Quicksilver, 15¼; Canton, 62¾; Pacific Mail, 86¼; Western Union Telegraph, 39¼; Mariposa, 8¾; do. preferred, 17½; New York Central, 194¾; Erie, 29¾; Hudson, 164¾; Harlem, 144; Reading, 98¾; Terre Haute, 37; do. preferred, 58; Wabash, 73¾; do. preferred, 80; St. Paul, 76½; do. preferred, 87; Fort Wayne, 157½; Ohio and Mississippi, 33; Michigan Central, 131; Michigan Southern, 106⅜; Illinois Central, 141; Pittsburgh, 99; Rock Island, 119½; Northwestern, 82¾; do. preferred, 96½; Chicago and Alton, 158.

Coppers at Boston: Copper Falls, 8; Franklin, 15; Hecla, 85: Hancock, 3; Minnesota, 1½; Quincy, 25.

Receipts at the Sub-Treasury, $3,011,138; payments, $1,333,314; balance $89,067,174.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The market is generally inactive, but firm for most kinds of cotton goods, yet it is very evident that prices will not bear of any further advance, for we find that a line of Sprague prints which were advanced, yesterday, to 13c, by H. B. Claflin & Co., are down again to-day to 12½c. Lonsdale cambrics are offered at 11c for plain, and 12c for high colors; Stark A bags are advanced to 47½c; Turners & Mechanics cottonades firmer and held at 35@37½c; in other descriptions of goods there is no change to notice. Heavy brown sheeting firmer at 16½@17c, and fine do. like Pepperell R, Pacific and Atlantic L at 14½c.

DETROIT, June 25.—Flour steady; medium to fancy white $6,50. Wheat 3c lower on No. 1 white; sales at $1,55 spot; No. 2 do $1,33; extra unchanged at $1,75; No. 1 amber nominal at $1,35@1,37. Corn market dull and irregular; held at 68@69c for No. 1 mixed. Oats scarce and held at 68c; buyers 65@66c. Feed—Bran held at 12@13c; coarse middlings quiet at 17@18c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 25, 1869.

Flour and Grain continue to attract considerable attention and for the time being, almost everything else is lost sight of. From the character of the advices on Thursday, it would seem that a reaction had set in and that the top has been reached; and while it is possible that there may be similar movements between now and harvest, it is not likely that they will amount to much, as the public generally are becoming too smart to become excited over manipulations of this character. While it is true that the recent flurry was started by an increased export demand, yet it was not owing to this entirely. There is little doubt but what it was taken advantage of by cliques in Chicago, New York and other places, carrying large stocks, and who were anxious to sell out as quickly as possible, and to the best advantage. It is admitted that exporters have been buying considerable Flour and Grain, but this was not of itself sufficient cause for the advance and it is not probable that there would have been much of an advance had it not have been for the manipulations of speculators. The advices from almost every quarter speak very encouragingly of the Wheat crop and, judging from present indications, the yield will doubtless be the heaviest in the history of this country.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales at 50@$1,00, per gallon as to quality.

BUTTER—Is in pretty good supply and the market is quiet and unchanged; sales of good to prime at 23@24.

BEANS—Dull at $2@2,25.

CHEESE—Is dull but unchanged; Common Western 16@17; Factory, 18@19; and Goshen, at 20@21.

CARBON OIL—Is firmer, though there is no improvement to note in the demand.

DRIED FRUIT—Is very dull and almost out of season. Peaches are being sold at 10@12 for quarters, and 15@16 for halves. Apples 11@13, as to quality.

EGGS—Unchanged at 18.

FEATHERS—Supply in hands of commission men almost exhausted. Live geese may be quoted at 85@90, to the trade, and $1 in a retail way.

FLOUR—Is firm and a little excited though the demand is light, and prices unchanged. We continue to quote at $6@6,50 for Spring Wheat brands, and $7@7,50 for Winter. Receipts fair, and supply moderate.

GRAIN—Wheat is easier, under the influence of the advices from the West, though prices, as yet, remain unchanged, ranging from $1,30@1,35, as to quality. Rye is in better demand and higher—we now quote at $1,15@1,20; sale 1 car at $1,15. Corn—sale 4 cars good mixed at 75c, and 400 bushels strictly prime Yellow, in store, at 83—the supply of Yellow Corn is almost exhausted in this market. Oats may be quoted at 65@66 on track, and 68@70 in store, and market, if anything, firmer. No Barley offering and but little wanted.

HAY—Sales at Allegheny Scales of 42 loads at $21@35 for old, and $21 for new. Straw sold at $20.

HUSKS—Sales at 3 cts per pound.

HEMP—Sales at $210.

LIME—Cleveland Lime is quoted at $2,50, per bbl, and Common White at $1,75.

LARD OIL—Is firmer, in sympathy with the advance in Lard, and tending upward.

PEANUTS—Small sales at 12c.

POTATOES—Small sales of old crop at 40@45 per bushel, and new at $8,25@3,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Firmer and a shade higher. We now quote Shoulders, at 14¾@15; Ribbed Sides, 17½@17¾; Clear Sides, 18½@18¾; Breakfast Bacon, 21; 21@21½ for Sugar Cured Hams and 16½@16¾ for Sugar Cured Shoulders. Dried Beef, 21. Mess Pork, $33,75. Lard, 20 in tierces, 21 in hf bbls, and 21 in pails and kegs.

SEEDS—The demand for Clover and Timothy Seeds seems to have almost entirely subsided. Flaxseed would sell but there is none in market.

SALT—Is dull and drooping; may be quoted at $1,70 by the car load.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 25, 1869.

The Iron market, in a general way, presents nothing that is really new or important. The demand for metal continues light, and notwithstanding the offerings and arrivals, are limited, prices are weak, and the tendency is downward. It is not to be expected that the iron business would be active at this season of the year, as the time is now at hand when the mills usually suspend operations to take stock and make repairs, and the consumption of metal is always very much restricted during June and July, sometimes, in August.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The arrtvals of beeves to day were 1,790 head, making 5,622 head for the week, or quite enough for the demand. There was a fair call to day for prime lots, but thin, of which there was an excess, did not sell, some being hardly fit for sale, and would only bring $60 each, or 12c per pound. J. T. Alexander, 670 head medium to fine, 6½ to 7 cwt, Illinois cattle, brought 14@15c. A drove of Kentucky cattle, 63 cwt., at 14½@15½c, with a lot of Missouri steers, same weight at 14½@15c. Sheep go slowly with arrivals of 4,570 head today; they are not all selling; a car of 80 lb Ohio went at 4½c; some choice 98 lb. Indiana at 7c; a car of 70 lb. Ohio at 4⅝c, and a car of very thin 60 lb. at 3½c; a lot of 47 lb. Penna. lambs brought 9¼c; some 43 pound Kentucky lambs, 9¼c; a lot of 53 pound Jerseys, 10½c. and some of 55 pounds, 11c. Fat lambs are in fair demand. Hogs advanced to 12c for dressed, though some are still sold at 11¾; there were no sales of live; arrivals of 3,530.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Cattle quiet and easier, at $5,25@6,50 for fair to good butcher's cows and steers; $6,87½@7,50 for good to choice shipping steers. Hogs are steady and quiet at $8,80@9,30 for good to choice, and $9,37½@9,70 for extra to prime.

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—Cattle—good to extra beeves in fair request at $5@7, and active at $6,50@9.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THREE SEASONS IN EUROPEAN VINEYARDS. Treating of vine-culture; vine disease and its cure; wine making and wines, red and white; wine drinking as effecting health and morals. By By William G. Flagg. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

The rapidly growing interest in Vine Culture in this country has already assumed grand proportions, notwithstanding the lack of proper and practical information on the kind of soils most productive, and proper temperatures in which the grape will thrive the best. Most of the ameteur growers of the vine have no practical knowledge of these things, and it is not surprising that the product of the labor is of an inferior kind, and frequently becomes diseased. It is true our soil, temperature and peculiar climate prevent us from producing as good fruit as in some portions of Europe. Much, however, may be overcome by proper instruction. This book gives Mr. Flagg's careful study and observations in Europe, in addition to his large and varied experience previously in this country. His observations on vine diseases and its cure, will be found of great value to the vinegrower. The question of wine making is rarely thought of by those engaged in the culture of grapes, and for the reason, perhaps, that but little is used for making wines, and the moral phase is thus kept out of view. The fruit of the vine is a luxury itself, independent of their being used for vicious purposes, and the book is valuable for this fact alone. Throughout the work there is a vein of delightful gossipy and pictures of men and things, which hold the attention of the reader closely. For sale by Miner.

THE NEW WEST, OR CALIFORNIA IN 1867 AND 1868. By Charles Loring Brace. Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., 195 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

Frequently works of this character are merely surface glimpses at society, and do not give a faithful portraiture of the real facts. But Mr. Brace has already given evidence of his ability on this field of observation, as his works on "Home Life in Germany" and Hungary in 1861,', demonstrate. Much has been written about California, but the careful poise and study requisite has been wanting. Questions of great moment are discussed, the outgrowth of close observation, which await a solution in the future. Society is a problem on the Pacific coast which time only can determine. The effect of the Chinese element is yet to be seen, and the results of the severe discipline they have passed through will sooner or later appear. The Uzzah-like fears of some, that Christianity will suffer because of their ill treatment are without foundation. From beginning to end there is a charm of substantial facts, figures, and acute observations, beautifully interwoven with admirable sketches and incidents. Just now while the eyes of this country are turned to our rich "New West," and indeed the gaze of the civilized world is in that direction, this book will be welcomed and read with zest.

MOLLEY'S BIBLE. By Mary Dwinell Chellis, author of "Deacon Sims' Prayers." Published by Henry A. Young, of Boston. For sale by J. L. Read & Son, Pittsburgh.

There is really some ground for the fears of some active Sunday School workers, that too many of the books in the libraries are unsuitable for young folks, in not fostering evangelical sentiments. This work, however, much as some may think it is deficient in plot, possesses a healthy religious tone, which makes it a capital book for the fireside and Sunday School library. The work is neatly gotten up, and is robed in showy binding.

AUDUBON. The Life of Audubon, the Naturalist. Edited by his widow, with an introduction by General James Grant Wilson. Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

Audubon is one of the few names that will live on and on. His works are monumental. Well may Christopher North write "that he is the greatest artist in his own walk that ever lived." He was a wonderful character and his career was marked with prodigious results that posterity will long enjoy. Possessing a threefold character, embodying the lore of hunter, scientific knowledge, and skill with pencil and brush. His journeyings long and varied, and rich experience, are embalmed in this volume. This work will be prized the more highly because his venerable widow is associated with its publication. It is almost in the form of an autobiography, as the story of Audubon's life is mainly in his own words. May we not hope that Mrs. Audubon may succeed in securing amassed manuscript for other works of a similar character. Putnam has brought out the book in charming style and worthy of the great naturalist. The elegant portrait of Audubon gives an idea of his physical beauty.

EIGHT YEARS WANDERINGS IN CEYLON. By Sir Samuel W. Baker, author of "The Rifle and Hound in Ceylon," etc. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co. Philadelphia. For sale by H. Miner, Pittsburgh.

The writings of this great traveler are read with avidity, and well they may be, as they narrate scenes and exploits bounding on the marvellous and almost improbable. The narration of his wanderings in Ceylon partakes of the exciting circumstances atten ding a sojourn in a country so wild and exciting in its very nature. The careful observation of Mr. Baker, on the features of the country, and pursuits of the inhabitants, are instructive and entertaining, while relieving the racy scenes of the chase. Incidents transpired in his adventures in that country that rarely befall the ordinary traveler, and are here sketched with the pen of a ready writer, and by one peculiarly gifted in describing such things.

TOMMY TRY AND WHAT HE DID IN SCIENCE. By Charles Ottley Groom Napier, (of Merchiston) F. G. S. etc. With forty-six illustrations. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

The ingenious manner in which valuable scientific knowledge is imparted, and interwoven with Tommy's personal experience, and the result of his reading and intercourse in society, gives the book a piquancy and flavor that will please young people, and, indeed, fascinate old persons. Bating some "fast notions" of the flirtation order, these lessons in science are woven in graphic words and the book smacks of romance of the most attractive kind. The illustrations of plants, shells, insects and animals are very fine, and add interest to the charm of the book. We venture to predict it will be popular and widely read.

SAINT LOUIS AND CALVIN. By M. Guizot, Member of the Institute of France. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

Guizot, though born a Protestant and a faithful adherent of the Reformed faith, at the same time has been taught to revere true and noble representatives of other bodies. In this volume Guizot presents St. Louis, a French Catholic, as a type of lofty thought and pure morality of his country and generation in the thirteenth century, and among Protestants of the sixteenth century, Calvin, as presenting the same characteristics and worthy of equal glory. The author assumes that the wars and dissensions waged between Catholicism and Protestantism, the two great branches of the Christian stem, having passed away, that when Catholicism has conquered, as in France, Protestantism has not perished; when Protestantism has been the victor, as in England, Catholicism still survives. These two noted men, Saint Louis and Calvin, the author uses to illustrate the principle of divinity as being essential to Christian unity. This volume forms one of the excellent series of Lippincott's "Sunday Library for Household reading." We commend this series especially, because it furnishes a class of religious subjects antique, and above the range of works usually found in the family circle and on the shelves of Sunday School libraries.

ELEMENTS OF LATIN GRAMMAR, for Schools. By Albert Harkness, Ph. D., Professor in Brown University. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

It was announced at the time the author's Latin Grammar was published, four years since, that a smaller grammar would appear on precisely the same plan as the large work. This volume fulfils that promise. The main object of this work is to aid those who do not intend to pursue a college course of study, and is an elementary text-book for teachers in the class-room, to be supplemented by a more complete discussion of the subject. The plan of the work is simple, and may be studied with comparative ease in a short time, the student being introduced step by step in the principles of the language.

THE VILLA ON THE RHINE. By Berthold Auerbach. Published by Leypoldt & Holt, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

The completion of this work in parts with paper covers, and in two volumes, is in good time for visitors to the sea shore, springs and other fashionable places of resort. The work has produced quite a sensation, and is one of the best German novels. There is a freshness and purity of style, completeness in description of characters, as well as naturalness in the plot, that are noticeable features. The work is handsomely printed, and in styles to suit all the lovers of Auerbach.

THE DANCE OF MODERN SOCIETY. By W. C. Watkinson. Published by Oakley, Mason & Co., New York.

This essay, at least the main portion, was published in one of our able Quarterly Reviews some time ago, and appears in this form by special request. It certainly is worthy of a careful reading, as the question of dancing is presented with great logical force. Dancing, as a means of recreation, is held to be most exquisitely absurd, but in itself, is perfectly innocent. But the question is not of dancing in the abstract. It does not exist in the abstract. The innocent use of dancing, he thinks, is hedged about with too many restrictions to make it attractive. It is in the removal of these guards that the evils and sin of the dance appears. He argues against the dance as observed by society, in its bearing upon health, expenditure, the social nature, the intellect and morals. Lovers of dancing are invited to the solution of the following: "Why is it that the dance alone, of all the favorite diversions of gay society, requires the association of the two sexes in it?"

APPLETON'S JOURNAL. We have been favored through S. A. Clarke & Co., with the third monthly part of this stirling weekly, which is a fair specimen of this superb affair. It stands alone among the literary weeklies, and embodies excellencies peculiar to itself. Its papers on science and art, are high-toned and timely, its serial articles, including Hugo's great story, are readable, piquant, and striking; its wood cut illustrations are capital and of a superior type, while the cartoons, engravings, and illustrated supplements, commend the Journal to the favor of all who love the beautiful in art. The high position taken by the publishers, and promised to the patrons of the Journal, are more than fulfilled. Rarely has an enterprize of this kind been so well sustained as this one has been since its first publication.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to turow out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

☞ DOCTOR WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. That numerous class of cases resulting from self-abuse, producing unmanliness, nervous debility, irritability, eruptions, seminal emissions, and finally impotency, permanently cured. Persons afflicted with delicate, intricate and long standing constitutional complaints are politely invited to call for consultation, which costs nothing. Experience, the best of teachers, has enabled him to perfect remedies at once efficient, safe, permanent, and which in most cases can be used without hindrance to business. Medicines prepared in the establishment, which embraces office, reception and waiting rooms; also, boarding and sleeping apartments for patients requiring daily personal attention, and vapor and chemical baths, thus concentrating the famed mineral springs. No matter who have failed, state your case. Read what he says in his pamphlet of fifty pages, sent to any address for two stamps in sealed envelope. Thousands of cases treated annually, at office and all over the country. Consultation free, personally or by mail. Office No. 9 Wylie street, (near Court House) Pittsburgh, Pa. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Pamphlet sent to any address for two stamps. ap2

The attention of our readers is called to a Social Picnic advertisement on our 5th page to-day.

City Weigh Scales.—Sealed proposals will be received at the City Controller's office until Tuesday, the 27th inst. for the leting of the city weigh scales. For particulars see notice in our advetising colums.

Selling Liquor to Minors.—Information was made before the Mayor yesterday by William Bleakly charging Mr. Rinehart, proprietor of the Philadelphia Hotel, with selling liquor to minors. A warrant was issued.

Held for Trial.—C. P. Bailey, charged on oath of Victor Parton with larceny by bailee, the particulars of which we published some days since, had a hearing yesterday before Alderman McMasters, and was held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Desirable Property at Auction.—The attention of capitalists is called to the advertisement in another column under the head of "Wood Street Property at Auction." The property is situated in the heart of the city, and will doubtless prove a profitable investment to the purchaser.

Excursion Tickets may be obtained at the Union Depot, exclusively by parties desirous of attending the anniversary exercises at the various Catholic institutions near Latrobe or Cresson. Many hundred of our citizens will doubtless avail themselves of this opportunity to make a pleasant trip to the mountains.

Assault and Battery.—W. S. Green made information before Alderman Lynch yesterday, charging Albert Miller with assault and battery. Miller was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at the Alderman's office. He procured the bail but subsequently at the request of the person who had become bound for his appearance, a process was issued for his arrest.

Summer Trade.—We call the attention of our readers to the card of the well known Trimming House of Joseph Horne & Co. It is unnecessary for us to say anything in regard to the bargains offered by this firm, as it is a well known fact that they always sell to a close margin. The advertisement explains itself. Read it on our fifth page of to-day's paper.

A Protest.—Iron City Temple of Honor, No. 5, of Pennsylvania, located in Allegheny city, at their regular meeting, on Thursday evening, passed the following resolution with order for its publication:

Resolved, That we hereby enter our solemn protest against the proposed Sabbath desecration on the coming Fourth of July.

Letter Carrier Appointments.—The following removals and appointments of letter carriers in the delivering department of the Allegheny City Postoffice, have been made by the Postmaster General:

John S. Nicols, vice James Harmon, removed; James Z. Brown, vice Thomas Crumpton, removed; Samuel McCutcheon, vice John Dignam, removed; all at $600 per annum, and from date of service.

B. B.—This afternoon the second of the series of matches for the championship, between the Olympic and Osceola base ball clubs is to take place at Union Park. The match promises to be of unusual interest, as both clubs play well, and the Olympics won the first game. Speaking of the Olympics we are forced to admire their pluck, that is if the rumor be true, that they will shortly journey to Cincinnati, and there endeavor to wrest the championship from the famed Red Stocking club, which is at present on a tour of unexampled success and universal triumph.

Open air meetings are about being started by the Young Men's Christian Association. The first meeting of the season will be held D. V. on Sabbath afternoon, June 27th, on Duquesne Way, near Seventh street. The design of these meetings is to carry the Gospel to the masses, those who neglect or refuse to attend church. It is to be hoped that our city pastors will see the importance of this work, and will institute similar meetings in the neighborhood of their churches. In this way a great number of meetings might be sustained and multitudes who now throng our streets on Sunday, spending the time in idleness or worse, might be brought within the influence of Christianity, and perhaps within the fold of the church.

The High School Alumni.

A meeting of the Alumni of the Pittsburgh Central High School was held last evening, in the elegant and commodious chapel room of the school. There were present about three hundred persons, many of whom were invited guests. The exercises were very interesting and of a high order. Inasmuch as the occasion deserves a full and complete report, the writer hereof is not satisfied to write against very limited time, the exercises keeping up till after two o'clock this morning, and he therefore postpones the report till Monday morning, when it will appear in Monday's GAZETTE.

Bellefield Church.

The fair and festival at Mr. Lloyd's delightful homestead, in Bellefield, will be continued this afternoon and evening. So far, it has been a success, as indeed it will desired to be. Visitors can look at and purchase any of the fine specimens of needle work prepared by the active fingers of the industrious ladies of the congregation; visit the the tasteful grotto made by the boys; delight themselves with the ice cream, strawberries and cakes of the refreshment room; partake of the delicious lemonade drawn from Rebecca's Well by a veritable daughtea of Rebecca; or enjoy the fragrant aroma of a spledid cigar beneath the foliage surrounding the dwelling in which this pleasant reunion is held. Across the avenue you can see the beautiful building (about to be dedicated to the worship of the Triune God,) arising, like a veritable Phœnix, from its ashes; to furnish which the ladies of the congregation have toiled in this enterprize.

Go and enjoy yourselves, while helping on a good work. Go by Oakland cars.

BUTLER, PA.

The Shugart Poisoning Case—A Jury Obtained—Testimony for the Commonwealth.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUTLER, PA., June 24, 1869.

When it became known, yesterday afternoon, that the list of jurors summoned had been exhausted without a jury having been secured, there was great excitement in the town, and quite an exodus of people liable to be called as talesmen took place. One gentleman we know of, fearing this, started immediately to Freeport, and has only returned since the jury was secured. The Sheriff proceeded to the villages scattered within a radius of ten miles of the town and secured his men without difficulty, so that the fears of the townspeople proved needless.

The case is becoming more interesting. There are a number of strangers here who have come to see it through. The evidence will doubtless be quite voluminous. I heard yesterday, from an official who ought to know, that about seventy-five witnesses have been subpœned, but it is not probable that they will all be called.

Court met at nine o'clock Thursday morning, and commenced the third day's proceedings. The prisoner seemed to be in better in spirits, and through the day conversed freely with her counsel. Her son, a young man, together with a son-in-law, were present, and sat beside her.

The doors leading into the Court room were surrounded at intervals during the day with women, who were thus enabled to get a view of the interior and note the proceedings without entering, the doors being kept open. There were also a few women inside among the spectators.

JURY FINALLY SECURED.

The nine jurors sworn on Wednesday were brought into the box. The Sheriff presented a list of persons secured by order of the Court from which to select talesmen, and the impannelling of the jury was continued. A scene of considerable excitement was created while this was going on, by the fainting of one of the talesmen, who had just undergone the preliminary examination and had been excused on account of delicate health. He was taken out to the fresh air and revived in a short time.

In the progress of selecting the three additional jurors needed three talesmen were peremptorily challenged by the defense, one by the Commonwealth and two for cause. Finally, at a quarter past ten o'clock, twelve jurors were secured. Following is the list:

1. Stephen Boyce, Middlesex township.
2. Joseph West, Cranberry "
3. Albert G. Boyd, Donegal "
4. Wm. Layton, Venango "
5. Thos. G. Coulter, Concord "
6. Alexander Black, Fairview "
7. Hugh Williams, Middlesex "
8. Andrew P. Christy, Concord "
9. Wm. Braham, Mercer "
10. John Hunter, Butler "
11. R. D. Stevenson, Summit "
12. Leslie Hazelett, Forward "

THE OPENING.

The indictment was then read to the jury by the Clerk, Mr. W. H. Black, after which District Attorney W. H. Grier opened the case in a short address on behalf of the Commonwealth. He said it was with feelings of diffidence that he appeared before a jury in a case where the facts which must be brought out would fall like daggers on the heart of a neighbor. But, however hard it might be, duty to his office, and the claims of justice, demanded that these solemn and important truths should be adduced. The prisoner at the bar was accused of a crime the most terrible in the calendar, and yet he believed if ever any human being deserved the name applied to the crime, it was she who was now arraigned at the bar. Although this assertion might seem hard and severe, yet the facts in the possession of the Commonwealth which would be developed would be found to fully justify the charge.

He then detailed at length, and with clearness and force, the alleged circumstances of the case, as already well known, regarding the poisoning, Mrs. Shugart's unfaithfulness, the manner in which the affair was developed, &c. He stated that Mrs. Shugart since her imprisonment sent for her daughter and offered her ten cents to swear that her father had sent for the poison. She urged this upon the child, saying that only by this means could she be got out; that she had a conversation with her paramour, Martin, in the jail, when she asked how they were to get out, and he replied "I don't know; you must contrive to get Annie to swear that Jake sent her for the poison for rats, and that you used it so."

It was also to be proved that she told very contradictory stories in regard to Mr. Shugart's death; said at first he had eaten a poisoned radish, next that he had been ruptured, next that it was a malady in the family which carried them all off suddenly.

The learned counsel continued at some length, and closed by saying, "All this, gentlemen of the jury, we are prepared to prove, and if the proof is not strong enough, it will be because the evidence sworn to and produced heretofore cannot, from some mysterious reason, be again brought forth."

Mr. Grier is rather a pleasing speaker, and his address made a fine impression. At its close, Judge McGuffin announced that the examination of the Commonwealth's witnesses would proceed.

THE EVIDENCE.

Dr. Stephen Braden was the first witness sworn, and testified as follows: Have been a practicing physician seven or eight years; reside in Butler; was called to see Jacob Shugart, between one and half-past one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, October 19, 1868, by his little daughter Annie. Shugart then lived on the street back of the jail; had been their family physician for about three years; had just cured one of the children of fever; when called in found Shugart in bed; Mrs. Shugart, and perhaps the little sick child, were in the room where he lay, but no other persons; his face was covered with a quilt; I put my hand under the bed clothes and examined his pulse, without raising his head; made inquiries as to the manner of his sickness. The questions were put to him and answered by Mrs. Shugart. She said he had not been well that morning. Had risen late, and despite her remonstrances, went to work. Got home late the evening before. Had eaten heartily of boiled cabbage and frozen radish. The cabbage was frozen. Had been up and sick during the night. She had also eaten of it, and had been sick. Said that it was rank poison, that Dr. McJunkin had said so. She asked for my opinion. I answered that frozen cabbage boiled would be indigestible. She then repeated this information. I asked him the questions, and she answered them. His pulse indicated great prostration, being very low and weak. Then uncovered his face. He looked as sick as his pulse indicated. Asked him if he had been cold in the field; got no answer; inquired what he had eaten and how he got home. She told me she had prepared a dish of soup which he liked; she stated the ingredients; she called it cream soup. From the statement of the ingredients it was not an indigestible soup. She said she had made it very nicely; let them all taste it to see whether it was good; put it into a bucket, tied it up warm and told the little girl to hurry to the field. After he had eaten that soup he got sick, she said. I insisted upon Shugart answering himself. Asked what had made him sick, if it was the soup. He answered, "It was too fat." This was the only question he answered himself. She had spoken in regard to his vomiting and purging after he had come in from the field. I asked to see his tongue; laid my hand on his stomach and bowels; looked at the inside of his hand. I was under the impression that he might have had an attack of cholera morbus. The stomach and bowels apparently were entirely empty. Gave directions for treatment. Treated him for cholera morbus, or severe vomiting and purging, arising from causes unknown. The frozen cabbage and radish, said to have been eaten the night before, were sufficient to produce cholera morbus. Did not prescribe any stimulating drink at that time; directed mustard applications and hot cloths to his bowels and feet; this was before I left the bedside. Mrs. Shugart then stated she had been very severely griped and purged blook; talked again about the poisonous effect of frozen radish and cabbage, and asked for medicine for herself. She looked fresh and well, and moved about freely. Thought she was not sick. Prepared remedies for Shugart at a stand in the room and gave directions for their use. She asked me if she could take some of the medicine. Told her if badly pained to take liquor. She had been very attentive to her sick child, and I had prescribed stimulants for her during the time. Left the bedroom, she following to the door. I stated there to her I thought Mr. Shugart was very sick and if not better before supper time to let me know. She said Shugart had been ruptured; that at one time, when working for Mr. McDougall, he had left his work and come home on this account; she stated that Shugart's mother had died suddenly in the field, and that his brother had also died suddenly. She said she was afraid Shugart would go likewise. He was lying in bed when I called, on his back, with his knees drawn up and his face covered. She said if he got worse she would let me know.

The hour of noon having arrived the Court taok a recess until two o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court met at two o'clock. Three of the prisoner's daughters, Annie, Amelia and Margaret, who are subponaed as witnesses, were in attendance, and sat near their mother during the session. They were dressed in black, and wept bitterly at the first sight of their mother, whom they had not seen since her imprisonment. Amelia, the eldest, is about twenty-one years of age, Margaret about fifteen, and Annie (the one alleged to have been sent for the poison,) about twelve. Mrs. Shugart herself seemed much affected at the presence of her children, but held no conversation with them.

Dr. Braden's examination continued—Was called again to the house in about an hour and a half. Left the house about two o'clock and returned about half-past three. The little girl, Annie, I think, called for me, and another person whom I do not recollect. I went immediately. Shugart was breathing, but pulseless, and working apparently in death. A great many persons were in the room and great excitement. Called for hot water and whiskey, some of which I succeeded in getting him to swallow. Several relatives and neighbors were present. Mrs. Shugart said nothing at that time. Her husband was quiet when I went in. Don't think he moved afterwards. I put my hand under the bed clothes and found the rupture in its proper place. In a few minutes thereafter I saw he was dead and stopped the men from chafing him. I then stepped back and said nothing for some time. While the women busied themselves about the body, Father Amandus, the Priest, came in. Mrs. Shugart was walking about the room and lamenting. I said to the Priest that the death was unaccountable to me. Said this in a loud voice. There was no immediate danger of death when I first left. Was called to the window by a son-in-law and asked my opinion of the death.

This was objected to by the counsel for the defense, who contended that conversation on this point should not be repeated. Objection overruled.

Witness continued—I told Mr. Wise (the son-in-law,) I could not account for the death. He asked me if I thought a post mortem examination necessary. I said I thought so, but that it was not the proper time to talk about it. I then moved the sick child to the part of the house occupied by Mr. Lauf, a son-in-law of Mr. Shugart. This consumed some time, and when I came back the excitement had quieted down, but the room was still filled with neighbors. I endeavored to leave without being noticed. Near the front door Mrs. Shugart stood, between me and it. Laid her hand on my collar and said, "Now, Doctor, you're my friend; didn't I do all I could for my man," repeating, "didn't I do all that I could for my man." I said I suppose I she had. I then got away.

When I first saw Shugart, I thought he would get better, if the purging and vomiting were stopped. According to my recollection Mrs. Shugart said to me that he had got better and sat up in the bed, between my two visits, and had asked for a glass of whisky and pepper; that as soon as he had taken this dose he got a great deal worse. She stated she had prepared this whisky and pepper for him—black pepper. There would not have been anything in whisky and pepper to make him worse; it would rather have relieved him. The whisky and pepper would have had the effect described if the prostration resulted from poisoning; would have increased the acute inflamation occasioned by the poison. On the morning of the funeral I returned to the house at the request of two relatives, Mr. Etzel and Mr. Wise, between seven and eight o'clock; went into the room in which Shugart had died. In the front room there was no one but the corpse and Mrs. Shugart. She was on her knees near the corpse; didn't speak to her. Mrs. Shugart came into the room where I was making up some medicine for the little girl. Mr. Wise again spoke to me in regard to the post mortem examination; Mrs. Shugart listened; I watched her while I was talking; while listening to our conversation she became very nervous and disturbed; her hand shook so much so as to cause her to almost spill some medicine which she held; she directed her attention to the conversation. After directing her to give the child the medicine, I went into another room and told Mr. Wise to send her in; she came and stood in the doorway, between the two front rooms; I said to her Mr. Shugart's death had been very sudden—that I would like to examine him to know what the cause was. She became angry; her face flushed; she said "she wasn't going to have it done with her man; she knew very well what ailed her man, and what had ailed him for twenty-five years;" she then left the room; I understood her to refer to the rupture; she turned back again and said "she couldn't help it if we were going to do it." There were but the family and myself in the room to hear the conversation. Some conversation then took place with the family, and I gave my opinion that a post mortem examination ought to be made. Amelia spoke up and said 'Have him opened?" I then talked with Wise, and he agreed to get the Priest to remain at the grave until I would come. I left the house and called on Michael Zimmerman, a medical student, to go with me. The funeral took place at nine o'clock. I made a visit or two before going, and Mr. Zimmerman went.

POST MORTEM AT THE GRAVE.

The body was buried in the Catholic Cemetery, east of Butler. Mr. Zimmerman waited in the woods, adjoining the graveyard, until I came. When we came to the grave we found Father Amandus and Jacob Ricking, the grave digger, there. We took the body out of the grave, and without taking it from the coffin, I opened the cavity of the bowels and took out the stomach. I also removed about six inches of the bowels below the stomach. Examined the condition of the liver, and found it entirely healthy. Examined further and found no evidence of rupture, and no appearance of disease or of injury. I found no disease about the organs of the body. We noticed its extreme rigidity. All our strength was required to remove the arms from the position they were in. Our jar was not large enough to contain the stomach. The coating and general external appearance was perfectly healthy. We took it to my office in a pocket handkerchief. Examined the stomach at my office. I cut the ligature and emptied the contents of the stomach into a glass jar. Found it a very large and healthy stomach, with the exception that on the lower third there were bright red pots, about one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter; there were not very many of them. There was no softening of the mucous membrane. There were some of these spots above the point I speak of in the folds of the stomach. In that portion of the bowel that passes from the stomach to the lower intestines the red spots were more numerous, and there were bright streaks of red passing round the bowels. The stomach when opened was covered with mucous filled with blood. A considerable quantity of black pepper adhered to the stomach. There was no smell of any liquor that I could detect. There were a few crumbs of bread, about a teaspoonful.

There was, in addition to this, a yellowish white substance of the pepper, and small particles of matter. They were lying on the mucous coat of the stomach, undissolved. The bowel we opened at the same time and discovered no trace of any inflammation. I gathered a few of these white specks, picking them up with the point of a knife. I then divided the stomach into three equal parts; with two of these parts I placed a portion of the bowel, which I divided into two parts. Put them into a glass vessel and poured a part of the liquid contents of the stomach therein also. Then sealed them up. One I kept in my custody until I handed it over to Prof. Wuth, in his laboratory, on Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, for chemical analysis.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS.

The other third I experimented on myself. The first thing I did was to take some of these specks or particles and place them between two watch crystals. I showed these to Prof. Bruch, of this place, without telling him anything of the case. I made notes of my experiments as I performed them.

The witness produced a manuscript of the notes, which the Court allowed him to read.

It was as follows: I picked a few particles of dried powder from the stomach of J. Shugart, and with a flux and charcoal I reduced them into a metallic ring in a tube. In melting off this tube, in order to seal it hermetically, this metallic deposit was converted into white crystals, forming a well defined ring, as seen in the tube; (the tube, a small glass one, was here exhibited.) That convinced me that these particles which I picked from the stomach were arsenic.

On the same day a part of the stomach of Shugart was cut into small fragments, which I charged with strong sulphuric and nitric acid, and by the use of a gentle heat converted them into a mass of substance like coal and almost dry. Water was then added and the whole boiled. It was then put on a paper filter and more water added to it. A piece of bright copper plate was then boiled in this and remained untarnished, until a quantity of muriatic acid was added, when it became coated with a bright metallic film of a steel gray color, indicating the presence of metallic arsenic. This is Reuch's test. This was not alone a satisfactory test, but it confirmed me in my former conclusions.

A small portion of the matter vomited in the field by Jacob Shugart, brought to me by Leonard Wise, was boiled with water; muriatic acid was added, and a slip of bright copper boiled in this mixture; this was coated with a steel gray deposit of metallic lustre, under the microscope answering to the appearance of metallic arsenic, which was indicative of the presence of arsenic in the soup. A portion of the solution of the vomit of Jacob Shugart was boiled with gallic acid to precipitate the gelatinous matter contained in the soup. This was then filtered, a part put on glass, with a solution of caustic potash. This was then evaporated to dryness, and heated to drive away the dark deposit, supposed to be left by the acid. This left a film or white deposit on the glass. This deposit was at four places on the glass, at different times, moistened by a solution of caustic potash, and a small portion of sulphate of copper was then added. The heat of the lamp was applied and each time a spot of bright green color, answering to Scheel's green, which is arsenite of copper, was left on the glass, which I believe to be indicative of the presence of arsenic.

Copper raspings were boiled in the preparation made of the stomach; these were heated to a dull red in a glass tube. A ring of small glittering crystals was deposited in the lowest part of the tube. This tube was broken and the deposit scraped off and boiled in water, and a portion of nitrate of silver was added, when a very slight precipitate was visible; but on adding a small portion of aqua ammonia a yellow precipitate, bright in color, immediately fell. A small portion of nitric acid was added, and the precipitate disappeared. This, I believe, indicated the presence of arsenic in the coats of the stomach.

Small particles of white matter were picked up from the dried contents of the stomach and placed in a tube, with a portion of the carbonate of soda and charcoal. This was heated with a blow pipe to a white heat, heating the upper portion of the tube first and bringing the full heat on the powder last. A bright metallic mirror was deposited on the cooler part of the tube, distinct and well marked, which I believe to be metallic arsenic.

The next test I performed was Marsh's, which developed other spots on the apparatus used, which I believed to be arsenic.

The last test was a pint of the vomit of Shugart, said to be brought from the field by Leonard Wise, which resulted in the bringing out of a copious precipitate of a bright yellow color, answering to the appearance of sulpheret of arsenic, which indicated the presence of arsenic in the matter treated.

THE WITNESS' CONCLUSIONS.

These are not all the tests I made, but I thought them satisfactory. I made other tests, and the conclusion I arrived at after all these extended experiments was that Mr. Shugart had died of poison, which I believed to be arsenic. I am satisfied that was the cause of his death. Upon opening the stomach and finding the white specks there, and that the fluid contents of the stomach when held up to the light in a glass vessel showed small specks, and the fact of these specks gathering in a lump, when dried, satisfied me that arsenic had been given him between my visits on the day of his death. Arsenic, I think, would not dissolve as fast in whisky as in hot water.

The examination of the witness by the Commonwealth closed here, at half past five o'clock, and Court adjourned until Friday morning at half past eight o'clock.

First Class Establishment.

The Continental Dining Room, of which Mr. Holtzheimer is proprietor, is beyond all question the leading establishment of its character in the city. During the warm weather the large proportion of our business men who reside in the country, and in order to escape the heat and discomforts of a drive home, take their dinners in town, patronize this old and well conducted establishment, first, because the rooms are always clean, cool and comfortable, and second, because they can be supplied with every delicacy of the season, as well as the substantials, prepared in a manner which defy competition.
